Injunction Against Railway Shopmen is Made
Permanent

Attorney General Obtained
Temporary Writ About
a Year Ago.

Chicago, July 12.—The temporary injunction obtained October 5, last, by Attorney General Daugherty, restraining striking railway shopmen from interfering with interstate commerce, was made permanent in a decision handed down at ten a. m. today by United States District Judge Wilkerson, sitting in Chicago.

The government was represented in arguments before the court prior to the decision and in the courtroom today by Jacob M. Dickerson, and Orville J. Taylor, both of Chicago, special assistants to the attorney general.

In the language of the temporary injunction obtained almost a year ago shopcraft employees are restrained from the following:

- 1.—In any manner interfering with, hindering or obstructing said railroad (fifty plaintiffs) in the operation of their respective railroads and systems of transportation or the performance of their public duties and obligations in the transportation of passengers and property in interstate commerce and in any manner interfering with, hindering or obstructing the officers, agents, servants or employees of said railroad companies, or any of them and from preventing or attempting to prevent any person or persons from freely entering into or continuing in the employment of said railroad companies.

- 2.—In any manner conspiring, combining, confederating, agreeing and arranging with each other or with any other person or persons, organizations or associations to injure or interfere with or hinder said railway companies.

- 3.—Loitering or being unnecessarily in the vicinity of the points and places of ingress or egress of the employees of said railway companies or aiding, abetting, directing or encouraging any person or persons organization or association to do any of the acts heretofore described.

- 4.—Inducing, or attempting to induce, with intent to further said conspiracy by the use of threats, violent or abusive language, or threats thereof any person or persons to abandon the employment of said railroad companies.

- 5.—Engaging, directing or procuring others to engage in the practice commonly known as "picketing."
- 6.—Congregating or maintaining any pickets.

- 7.—Doing or causing any bodily harm to employees of said railway companies.
- 8.—Directly or indirectly hindering operation of trains.

- 9.—In any manner directing any person to abandon employment of said railroad companies.

"Continuance of wheat at the dollar a bushel mark means nothing short of bankruptcy for the thousands of farmers, who are dependent on the price they get for their wheat for a livelihood," said Mr. Bradfute.

Unless there is an immediate upward turn of the market for which at present, I can see no hope, there will be nothing for these farmers to do except throw up their hands and quit or put themselves heavily in debt in order to survive until better prices prevail.

"Dollar wheat in Chicago means that the farmer is unable to purchase the necessities for himself and his family.

"The farmer's purchasing power is based on the price his wheat brings. When it is low, he has to deliver more wheat to secure a dollar's worth of merchandise. The more wheat he has to deliver for each dollar's worth, the quicker his supply is exhausted and the less he gets for his money."

Mr. Bradfute declared that the loss to the farmer in revenue from wheat based on a crop of 800,000,000 bushels has been approximately $80,000,000 during the past two weeks when wheat dropped from $1.10 a bushel to its present level of $1.

"Every section of the United States will be affected either directly or indirectly. The only salvation is that wheat will shortly take an upward turn. Frankly, I am unable at present to see much hope for this. The farmer has overproduced."

HARDING SCHEDULE ALTERED TO PERMIT ANOTHER JOURNEY

Presidential Party Will
Take Trip To Skagway
It Is Announced

Skagway, Alaska, July 12.—The itinerary of President Harding's party was altered to permit a side journey to Skagway and a view of Muir glacier, one of the most noted ice formations in Alaska.

Leaving Juneau after a delightful entertainment by citizens of Alaska's capital, the Henderson sailed through Lynn canal up to Skagway. A brief stop was made, after which the transport doubled on her course in order to get a view of the mammoth Muir glacier, named for the noted American naturalist. The president expressed great interest in viewing the ice mountain. The transport then proceeded on its way to Seward, crossing the Gulf of Alaska and getting for the first time out into open sea, the entire voyage since leaving Tacoma having been through the inside passage, where smooth water prevails. It is expected that the party will reach Seward Friday, when a train on the government railway will be taken to Fairbanks.

RUMBLINGS OF STEEL STRIKE FAIL TO ALARM HEAD OF INDUSTRY

Judge Gary Declares Men Are Satisfied and Blames
Outside for Stirring up Trouble in the
Business In Interview

New York, July 12.—Rumblings of a new nation-wide steel strike penetrating the offices of the United States Steel Corporation today, failed to visibly alarm Elbert H. Gary, board chairman, and spokesman for the steel industry.

Judge Gary had before him a despatch containing demands leaders in the new unionization movement within the steel industry say they will make on the corporation:

- 1.—A higher wage.
- 2.—Improved working conditions.
- 3.—The universal eight-hour day.
- 4.—Stricter immigration laws.

"I cannot anticipate anything the union leaders may do," Judge Gary said, as he read the statement of M. C. McCadden, of Cleveland, a moving spirit in the unionization movement, announcing the new campaign was under way.

Gary pointed out that at the last stockholders' meeting, he went on record in answer to every demand now being voiced by McCadden, who says he has the pledge of Samuel Compers and the American Federation for "backing to the limit."

"Men in the steel industry, as a rule, certainly on the average, and I think certainly as to a large majority, would always be perfectly satisfied except for the uncalculated and unjustified interference of outsiders who know nothing about the business and who would just as soon see it come to grief as see it succeed," Judge Gary said at that time.

His views on the danger of a threatened strike.

"Sometimes they (outsiders) have created trouble, but it is not lasting; and when the men have an opportunity to pass upon the question that are raised they are generally pretty prompt to decide in favor of the management."

SAYS ONLY HOPE IS IN NOMINATION

Detroit, July 12.—Henry Ford's only chance of becoming president of the United States lies in his nomination by one of the major parties, according to Senator Charles E. Townsend, declared Townsend, who is in Detroit in the interest of the lakes to sea waterway project, scoffed at the Ford third party talk. "Ford's chances of winning an election should be run on a third party ticket would be very poor," he declared. "I do not believe that Ford possesses the qualifications that a president of the United States should have, nor do I believe that Ford thinks he is qualified for such a position," he continued. "I do not wish to intimate that Mr. Ford is not a good man," Mr. Townsend said. "I think he is a fine man—a man with a big heart, but a president must possess qualities that Mr. Ford does not have."

HARPER CHARGED WITH VIOLATION

Columbus, O., July 12.—Violation of the civil service law by State Welfare Director Harper has been charged by William D. Foulke, president of the National Civil Service Reform League.

According to Foulke, Director Harper asked for exemption from civil service regulation for three heads of departments, when under the law he was entitled to ask exemption for one personal stenographer and two clerks.

Harper presumably selected the higher salaried position that he might remove them without cause, Mr. Foulke said.

FRENCH PREMIER IS NOT WORRIED OVER SITUATION

Break With England
Threatens to Disturb
Peace of Europe

PUBLIC EXPECTANT

Many Visitors In House
of Commons to Hear
Baldner's Statement

Paris, July 12.—"I am confident. I am not worried."

That was Premier Poincare's message to the French senate as the break with England on reparations loomed today to threaten the peace of Europe.

"France has need of England," said Poincare, "but England needs France just as much. If England breaks away from us, she will be back at our side two days later."

"France has need of England," said Poincare, "but England needs France just as much. If England breaks away from us, she will be back at our side two days later."

France awaited Premier Baldwin's statement in the British House of Commons calmly. In official circles there was assurance that the French position is advantageous.

The French viewpoint is something like this:

France holds the Ruhr and the Rhineland and is strategically strong. England holds nothing and is therefore weak.

If England undertakes a separate agreement with Germany what will it profit her? Obviously nothing, because the army—like the desert of France—holds Germany's most productive properties.

The French apparently also believe Premier Baldwin will be overthrown or his position greatly weakened if his policy results in a break with France.

London, July 12.—Great Britain will draft a reply to the latest German note on reparations, and submit it to the allied powers for their approval, Premier Stanley Baldwin announced in the House of Commons this afternoon.

"We hope the Allies will join with us," the prime minister said. "If they do not, England will be forced to act independently."

"France's course is endangering the peace of the world," Baldwin said.

Every seat in the House of Commons was reserved today for Premier Stanley Baldwin's statement on reparations.

DANGER OF COAL STRIKE BELIEVED TO HAVE PASSED

Miners Expected to Accept
Proposals Made By
Operators

Washington, July 12.—There is no anthracite coal strike in the air.

This assurance was given by a government authority on coal matters who is keeping in close daily touch with the progress of the anthracite joint wage conference at Atlantic City.

Around Aug. 20, it was stated, the miners will agree to the operators' proposal, twice rejected within the past week, that they continue at work after Sept. 1, in event a new joint wage agreement has not been entered into, pending conclusions of negotiations.

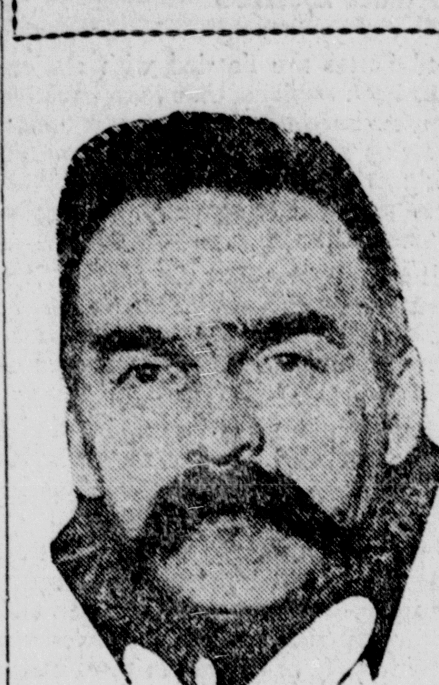

By Aug. 25 operators and miners are expected to be in agreement on all essential points of controversy. It may, however, be necessary to continue the joint conference beyond that date to dispose of minor points. The operators, it was stated, will accede to the miners' demand for higher wages, but not the 20 per cent raise the miners are now demanding. A compromise of 10 per cent increase will be reached.

It was pointed out that the operators have already agreed in principle to three of the principal demands of the miners: First, they have recognized the justice of the miners' demand that the 9, 10 and 12-hour day in mine work be eliminated and the industry be put on a maximum 8-hour basis; second, the operators have agreed to the proposal that arbitration of grievances be speeded up with decisions within 30 days after reference to an umpire, and third, the operators have recognized the justification of the miners' contention for an upward revision of mine wages by offering a 5 per cent increase at the outset.

FATE OF MATRON OF GIRLS' SCHOOL RESTS WITH COMMISSION

Evidence and Arguments
Are Closed at Delaware
Late Wednesday

Columbus, O., July 12.—If vindicated by the Ohio civil service commission, Mrs. Mae Stannard, former matron of the Girl's Industrial school at Delaware, will go back to the institution and "clean house" she told the International News Service today.

"The disloyal officers and employees who constantly hampered me and who, during my entire administration tried to 'get me' have got to go if I return," she declared.

The question of whether or not Mrs. Mae Stannard, to be reinstated as matron of the Delaware Girl's Industrial Home, was in the hands of the State Civil Service Commission today.

Evidence and arguments were closed at Delaware late yesterday.

Director Harper, of the Welfare Department dismissed Mrs. Stannard, charging her with inefficiency. She asserted that Harper was inspired by political motives, evidence having shown that Mrs. Stannard discharged the mother-in-law of Governor Donahy, who was a cottage matron.

The Civil Service Commission consists of one Democratic and one Republican, both appointees of former Governor Davis. In case of a deadlock vote of the commissioners, the law provides the dismissal will stand.

However, officials of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, who have backed Mrs. Stannard during the hearing, were preparing today to carry the case to the civil courts if an unfavorable decision is given.

BANK IS ROBBED BY TWO BANDITS

WAY NOW CLEAR FOR DIPLOMATIC FORMALITIES REGARDING TREATIES

Final Acceptance By France of Naval Pacts Opens the Road—to Exchange Ratifications of Four
Power Agreement

Washington, July 12.—In accordance with agreements reached at the Washington conference, the State Department today made preparations for the formal exchange of ratifications of the four power Pacific Treaty and the naval limitation treaty signed here on Dec. 13, 1921.

Although the terms of the treaties have been generally observed by the signatory powers ever since they were concluded, the pacts do not actually become effective until ratifications have been deposited in Washington.

Final acceptance by France of the naval treaties now clears the way for the diplomatic formalities which will mark the accomplishment of the work of the Washington conference.

When the four power treaty goes into effect, the Anglo-Japanese alliance, signed in London on July 13, 1911, will be automatically terminated.

FILES OUSTER SUIT

PANAMA CANAL TO BE WIDENED IS ARMY PLAN

Scheme is Part of War
Department Program
For Defense

COST 50 MILLIONS

Expansion of Trade Necessitates Either Change or
New Waterway

Washington, July 12.—Part of the army and navy plan for strengthening defenses in the Pacific contemplates widening the Panama canal, it was learned here.

Tentative blueprints are understood to have been prepared by the engineers and it is likely that congress will be asked to authorize the improvement.

The "bottle neck" which needs widening is Gatun lock, and the cost would be $50,000,000, according to engineering authorities. The canal is 110 feet wide and the concrete locks 1,000 feet long at this point. The widest battleship is 105 feet and passenger vessel about 100 feet.

Albert D. Lasker, former chairman of the shipping board, declared on the Leviathan at Southampton, England, that the canal would need to be widened to meet the requirements of ocean liners the United States would build, and it is believed he reflects the views of President Harding on this subject.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of naval aeronautics, asserted that in his opinion the widening would be necessary in the near future. He said the battleship Mississippi, of only 32,000 tons, could hardly get through on a voyage some time ago. He was aboard and noted the difficulties.

Starr Truscott, civilian employee of the engineering division of naval aeronautics, who was assistant engineer four years in the construction of the Gatun locks and other work, asserted that a lower "divide" had been found near Colombia. The "divide" is the stack of mountains through which the cut must be made. Had airships surveyed the route instead of parties on foot and horseback, the present route would not have been chosen, and considerable money could have been saved, he believes. The route followed took the diggers to a considerably higher "divide," he said.

The United States is now negotiating new treaties with Panama.

Engineer and military folk have expressed the opinion that the future expansion of American and foreign trade will necessitate either a widening of the Panama canal or the construction of an extra waterway.

GOVERNORS OF TWO STATES IN DISPUTE

Columbus, July 12.—The second refusal to honor a requisition for the return to Pennsylvania of C. A. Kirchner, Cleveland stock salesman, charged with fraudulent conversion of funds, may cause a serious rupture between Governor Donahy and Governor Fletcher of Pennsylvania, it was learned today.

Kirchner is the alleged "parlor pi who was accused of securing 60 shares of stock from an aged Erie, Pa., woman by means of the stock and $75 in commissions, said to have been received by Kirchner to be returned, but refused to honor the Pennsylvania requisition.

Drafting Youth for Education

SERVICE WITH FIGHTING MEN—Article Five—

Thousands of Young Men Acquired a Taste for Education Which is Now Making Itself Felt Throughout the United States

THE colleges of the United States are flooded with students. The pressure on many has been so great that they have been compelled to increase the severity of their examinations in order to control numbers. Many reasons have been given for the increased demand for higher education. No single cause controls but unquestionably one has been the great impetus given to many young men by their army experience.

Looking back a few years it would seem that the United States had grown somewhat complacent in its thought about its common school and higher education. The little red school house had grown familiar to our thought and we knew that there were colleges everywhere.

But the result of the draft examinations came as a shock. Not only was there a high percentage of illiteracy but altogether too many foreign-born young men had grown to maturity as American citizens unable to speak or understand the English language.

One of the first educational problems beyond the technical training of soldiers was met in the earlier officers' training camps by the teaching of French preparatory to overseas service. In addition to this, classes in elementary English and mathematics were arranged for contingents of the regular army and in the National Guard Camps.

EDUCATION AIDED BY THE NEWSPAPERS

The rapid assembling of the National Army brought a real educational task. During the first months of our war experience it was on a voluntary basis and informal methods were followed. Organization into class work was pushed at the same time, the largest classes being for illiterates and non-English speaking foreigners with which was combined a certain amount of instruction in civics and elementary history. The majority of teachers during these early months were volunteers either from among the soldiers themselves or from neighboring educational institutions. The military difficulty of dealing with soldiers who were not only unable to read or write but in many cases to understand English made this work most important. In May, 1918, the Development Battalions were formed for the purpose of giving intensive training to those who had not had previous opportunities.

At the same time the French methods and courses were systematized and provision was made for instruction to be given by the Y. M. C. A. under supervision of the Chief Intelligence Officer of each camp, attendance to be mandatory for such officers and enlisted men as he might designate.

No nation gains so much information and education from newspapers as does the United States. In the early days of the camps newspaper clippings containing important news were pasted on bulletin boards or newspaper headlines were copied on blackboards. During the summer of 1917 John Stewart Bryan, of Richmond, Va., as a result of his own enterprise in publishing a paper for Camp Lee, conceived the plan of a nation-wide paper issued at the same time from some 46 points, with the same editorial policy but each containing local news. Local arrangements were made and on October 8, 1917, the first issue of "Trench and Camp" in 32 editions, was distributed at as many camps.

While the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. financed this undertaking, it was in every sense a soldier's paper. We quote from an editorial in the first issue: "Through 'Trench and Camp' all the soldiers will be kept informed of the activities of the army. They will have their news from home, news from the front, news from their own camps. We hope to make 'Trench and Camp' a vital, living transcript of the life of the army that has been formed to keep civilization alive."

Some of the foremost cartoonists, illustrators and special writers in America contributed especially prepared drawings and articles. The local papers were filled with articles, news and pictures of interest to the camps where the editions appeared. At its maximum the publication reached editions of over 500,000 from more than 40 camps. Distribution to soldiers was free; civilians paid a nominal charge intended to cover the cost of paper and mailing.

Welfare experience demonstrated that the young soldier was anxious to learn, and he was given full opportunity. These scenes show classes in penmanship and typewriting.

On January 18, 1918, Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes, Secretary of Yale, arrived in France under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. In February he made a report to the Chief Secretary for transmission to the Commander-in-Chief of the army. This report anticipated the problem when the fighting would be over. These plans were approved. In April, 1919, the Educational Commission was mobilized as the "Army Educational Corps in the American Expeditionary Forces." We quote from General Pershing's General Order No. 30:

"The Commander-in-Chief invites the attention of organization commanders and all officers of the American Expeditionary Forces to the importance of national education. This citizen army must return to the United States prepared to take an active and intelligent part in the future progress of our country. Educational and occupational training should therefore be provided to meet the needs of the members of the A. E. F. in order that they may become better equipped for their future responsibilities."

There were post schools, divisional centers, and a university at Beaune in a base hospital camp containing 200 buildings. Here students began to arrive on March 7, 1919, and it was not long before 6,000 were working on a wide range of studies, which they attended "on detached service" with full pay.

One of the needs of the men on discharge was education. Funds were set aside for this purpose and a comprehensive plan made for all grades of schools from the most elementary to colleges and universities; instruction was also provided in correspondence and night schools.

One of the most striking lessons of the war was the discovery of the needs of better education for our young men. The draft revealed that more than 20% of those fitted for military service could not read a newspaper. This is a lesson the Army has learned as it is today continuing to make not only better soldiers but better citizens by carrying on the educational plan established during the war days. There has come into our civil life, too, an impulse toward more thorough and comprehensive education.

Would it not be well to have an educational draft for our young men?

RECRUIT IS KILLED AT CAMP KNOX

Louisville, Ky., July 12—Private Leonard Lawson Company D, Tenth Infantry, of Middletown, Ohio, was shot and killed accidentally at 7 o'clock yesterday at Camp Knox by Private Milford E. Coll, Company A, Tenth Infantry, of Sabina, Ohio.

The two men, who were on duty with the prison guard detachment under Captain Heinbold, Provost Marshal were recruits. The shooting occurred when the night guard reported off duty and the day guard went on. Both men had been on the night guard, and Coll was unloading his pistol, when it was discharged, the bullet striking Lawson and killing him instantly.

Two men were arrested pending a complete investigation of the shooting of Lawson. Those held are Private Milford E. Coll, Co. A, Tenth Infantry and Albert J. Hulsmann of the same company, both of whom claim the fatal shooting was accidental.

Look After Gas Leaks

This is a good time to inspect your natural gas house lines for leakage. A considerable amount of gas escapes in many houses from easily prevented leakage.

The best way to make the test is to be sure no fires are burning and then after an hour or so inspect the little dial on your meter. If it has moved you may be sure gas is escaping somewhere.

Easily Located

To locate the leak, cover all joints and couplings with strong suds. If the gas bubbles through, you have found a leak. Don't try to locate it with a match or a torch. You might start a fire.

Usually the leak should receive the attention of a pipe fitter. Sometimes tightening a coupling will take care of it. Leaks at the valves of cooking ranges are not uncommon—and a small leak may cost considerable during the month.

Palm Beach and Mohair Suits

The difference between wearing a woolen suit and a summer suit is the difference between a hot city street and the beach.

The first purpose of a Summer Suit is to keep the wearer cool. Body heat escapes because of the nature of the cloth. The breezes blow thru it.

But coolness isn't all. There's long wear and there are as many colors, patterns and designs—as much choice as you have in woollens.

ONE AMERICAN WHO HAS HELPED GREATLY OVER THERE.

Colonel W. B. Causey, of Suffolk, Va., is one American who has given us a good name in Europe. To the average European, Hoover is the great figure in America. In Austria he must share his distinction with Colonel Causey, who has lived in Vienna since 1919 as technical adviser on railways to the Austrian Government. But he expanded his job until it grew far beyond the narrow limitations of his titular employment. He worked with and for the Austrians in solving all of their post-war economic problems.

Here at home Colonel Causey was a railroad man. He knew transportation; how to build a railroad and how to operate it. He became one of the practical, efficient executives that we like to think of as typical products of our business and industrial life. When we got into the World War, Colonel Causey went to France as lieutenant colonel of an engineer regiment. After the armistice he was sent to Vienna as an expert on coal and transportation. He made good. He broke down the railway congestion and the trade barriers that were starving the Austrians. He got in coal and food. He made himself indispensable and a national figure. When the time came to get out of the army, the Austrians and the Inter-Allied Commission kept him on at his post with added responsibilities.

Now that Austria is coming slowly back to prosperity with her finances under the control of the League of Nations, Colonel Causey at last finds it possible to leave his post and come home again. He has had a great adventure. He has left a lasting memory of his personality and his capacities in Austria, and he has helped the prestige of America in Europe by his unselfish service. The Austrian Foreign Minister pronounces him "one of our most useful friends." He is one America abroad who has brought honor to his own country.

ALASKA INDIANS COMPLAIN THAT CANNERIES HAVE CUT OFF THEIR FOOD SUPPLY.

The ancient conflict which followed the white man's march was revealed to President Harding immediately on setting foot in Alaska when a native Indian, struggling with English, told a plaintive tale of individual sacrifice to the methods of civilization.

George Alexander, a dark brown brother, told of conditions before the salmon-canneries came and game was plentiful within a half-mile of the Metakala post and a boatload of fish was easily caught. At present the canneries have the creeks trapped and the natives are forced to beg for fish. The old Indian's voice choked as he related his story in halting phrases to the President, Secretary Hoover and the Governor General. The incident is regarded as indicating that President Harding is to hear native protests against Mr. Hoover's fisheries leasing systems from one end of Alaska to the other. There is no native industry, and the bureaucratic rows between Secretaries Work and Wallace as to which department is in control have made the natives very bitter against the canneries and Federal control of the fishing grounds.

Harding, the first President to set foot in Alaska, might well have been landing at any obscure continental spot. Native girls in pretty white dresses, the adults in conventional store clothes, the children with streaming flower wreaths, a band playing familiar tunes and a youth with a folding camera taking pictures, greeted the Chief Executive. Exercises were held in the school, a better building than is found in many rural communities in the United States, while the weather was as warm as in Washington.

"HARMLESS" BEER.

A policeman has about the largest opportunity to study humanity of any public officer. Even professional reformers who are constantly talking about the need of bettering conditions do not actually know from personal experience the facts that the policeman knows. And when a policeman has been on duty for 41 years, as Mr. Edwin Piper has been in the city of Boston, his observations and conclusions as to the causes of crime and trouble are worth considering.

He says in a letter to the Springfield Republican: "Liquor is the chief cause and the greatest curse of humanity, in any and all forms of criminality and trouble."

On his first beat in six years he made 791 arrests, "relating to all kinds of law violation. There were wife-beaters, thieves, murderers, men so brutal that they would strike down their wives with large sticks of wood or any other implement they might find convenient. I rescued nine persons from drowning during that time and recovered many bodies from the harbor. In all this list of crime and trouble, liquor was the chief cause. It would be impossible to overstate the curse it was to many homes that came under my observation."

As to beer this policeman with 41 years' experience with drinkers says: "My experience with drinking is that beer drinkers become more gluttonous, more degraded and often more brutal than any other kind of drunkards."

And yet Mr. Gompers and other labor leaders would have the country believe that "harmless" beer and light wine are necessary "nourishment" for the poor working man. The plea of the light wine and beer advocates is that these liquors are harmless, and while they say they do not want the old saloon to come back, they do not tell us how these "harmless" liquors are to be sold or bought without creating the old saloon business.

Mr. Piper's conclusions as to law enforcement are also worthy of careful notice: "I am a hearty advocate," he says, "of prohibition and believe that law enforcement in this direction should be as vigorous as in any other and that the public sentiment of the community should support all officers of the law who are trying to make Boston a clean city to live in."

For Boston read New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Denver and your own home town.

UNCLE SAM'S LITTLE OLD MAN OF THE (WHI) SKEE

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Rev. T. A. Glynn, who has had charge of the Third Baptist church for the past eleven months, is no longer pastor over that flock, his resignation having been received and accepted last night. To say that his resignation created consternation among his members is putting it mildly—it simply dumfounded them.

Xenia is full of people today. It is so long since a big show struck this city that John Robinson's circus and a fine day brought everybody in from many miles. If flying machines were a success, how many people would trust them, how many people could stand to take a trip in one of them? Walking is better for most people.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Greiner and little daughter are expected to arrive in the city tomorrow from Kansas City and will be the guest of relatives.

happiness to my neighbor, then I believe in earrings for her; if she loves and longs for earrings—then she is foolish not to give herself this simple pleasure if she can possibly manage to afford it.

Another woman might find satisfaction in putting perfume in the water in which she shampoos her hair. I personally don't like perfume. But if she loves to have her hair faintly scented—then by all means she should indulge herself in this simple way. Why not?

There are troubles enough and disappointments enough in our lives to make them drab-colored, without cheating ourselves of the harmless little pleasures which mean so much to us, day in, day out. We can't all like the same things. Let us, then, be tolerant of each other's tastes and admire each other for snatching a little joy by the wayside. Let us bring the Picnic Spirit into our lives—and clutch our day, or our brief hour, of joy while we may.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradford Regulator Co., 3A 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

MRS. EARLS TELLS WOMEN

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y. — "Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a headache, nosebleed, backache and pains that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, so I decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to be better, and my back did not hurt me nor my head ache. I felt like a new woman. The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it." Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 630 N. 6th St., Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Kelsey adds her Testimony
Copenhagen, N. Y. — "I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my housework and help my husband out doors, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others." Mrs. HERBERT KELSEY, R.F.D., Copenhagen, N. Y.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

AS A BOY
"I knew him as a boy," he said.
"Knew him when his feet were bare
And upon his youthful head
Grew a mass of tousled hair,
Never thought some day I'd see
Him the governor of the state!
He was just a boy to me,
Carrying home his book and slate."

He had known a famous man,
Known him in his youthful days,
So I questioned: "If you can,
Tell me of his early ways.
You have seen him come and go.
You have heard his laughter gay.
You were privileged to know
One whom the world applauds today."

"Could you read it in his eyes?
Could you see it in his face?
Did you guess that he would rise
Some day to a lofty place?"

Were you kind to him back then?
Did you ever think or say
That the town would hear again
From the boy who'd gone away?"

"No, he slowly answered me;
'Had he not been crowned by fame
Quite forgotten he would be,
I should not recall his name.
There are twenty boys or more
Just like him from day to day
Romping, playing round my door,
That is all that I can say.'"

There are twenty boys or more
Romping round us, day by day—
What tomorrow holds in store,
None of us can truly say.
Yet when fame shall single out
One for glory and for joy,
Some of us, beyond a doubt,
Shall have known him as a boy.

Today's Talk

BEING OF USE

The highest ambition of any life should be to be of use.

The accumulated pleasures of our everyday life melt quickly away unless there is at the heart of them—hidden deeply—the happiness of having done something that has made someone else happier.

And it doesn't matter greatly as to how we are made to give out our uses—ourselves being a multiplying proposition. Being of use in a small way today may mean being of use to a great extent tomorrow or far into the years.

How the small kindness of the every hour fill the air of the every year with fragrance and beauty!

If we can't be of use to our friend, we are no friend.

And we ought to be of use in a way that shall call for happy sacrifices and work that is out of the way for us.

The richest rewards of service come from the depths of lame backs, sad and heavy hearts, and spirits that have been broken by disappointment and loss.

But being of use is the most generous feeling that can possibly come to one.

For when we experience the hidden beauties and helpfulness of someone else lifting us up from something that we have done to help them up—life starts big for us!

Try not to worry about accomplishing great things. Be of use right where you are—to whom you are with—and the great things will come of themselves.

A well-built garage of practical design is just as essential a part of your equipment as a set of tires. A garage of the design illustrated is practical, attractive and economical to construct. It may be built to house one, two or more cars.

The Convenience

of a garage is always appreciated when the weather is bad—or when one is obliged to be out at a very late hour. To be obliged to house your car in a garage blocks from your home is a decided inconvenience.

The presence of a well-built garage adds many times its cost to the value of your property.

STATE SYSTEM OF WASTE CONTROL IN PLANT CONTEMPLATED

Following an inspection of the plant of the Hagar Straw Board and Paper Company at Cedarville, by J. T. Travers, state supervisor of streams and Karl L. Keller, Greene County Game Protector Wednesday, officials expressed themselves as confident that the paper company will take immediate steps to remedy the situation which resulted in the killing of thousands of fish in Massies Creek last week. Company officials are said to have expressed themselves as willing to install equipment recommended by the state department and which has been improvised by Mr. Travers himself.

who succeeded in transferring them to clear water. Others perished by the hundreds and as many as possible were taken from stream and buried along the banks by men employed by the paper company. Some floated downstream and led to many inquiries received by Game Protector Keller from even as far as Warren and Hamilton Counties.

Company officials expressed regret for the action that led to the loss of fish. Their reservoirs, although not conforming entirely with state specification, had been working satisfactory for nearly two years and eliminated former trouble. Their regret at the occurrence is expected to lead to the installation of the state-endorsed type of reservoirs.

Under this system, the 800,000 gallons of water that pour through the mill daily, will flow through a series of reservoirs. From one, the water will flow over the top into a second, and from that it will flow underneath into a third, and so on, alternating. When the waste water flows into the last reservoir from the bottom, a screen will catch the sludge depositing it on the bottom. Marl, lime and other alkalis will be used in the water to reduce the poison so that it will flow off about 98 to 99 per cent pure. The sludge can then be reclaimed and sold as fertilizer.

Installation of this system to prevent stream pollution is expected to eliminate the killing of fish in the future. It is expected that no action will be taken.

FAMOUS GENERAL OF FRANCE PASSES THROUGH XENIA

General Henri Joseph Engene Gouraud, noted French military leader during the World War, who is a guest of Dayton people Thursday, passed through Xenia on his way to Dayton Thursday morning at 8:45 o'clock over the Pennsylvania Lines.

General Gouraud's special car was attached to a regular passenger train. The General did not make his appearance while the train stopped here. Frederick B. Patterson, president of the National Cash Register Company and Colonel Noble Brandon Judah, of Chicago, his brother-in-law came to Xenia and boarded the General's private car here to accompany him to Dayton.

WOMEN MEMBERS OF CLUB ORGANIZE

Members of the general woman's committee of the Xenia Country Club held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary M. Meredith, chairman, on North King Street, Thursday morning, for follow-up work, resulting from a meeting of women members of the club, called by W. C. Craig, at the club house, Wednesday afternoon.

The general committee is composed of Mrs. Meredith, chairman; Mrs. Charles L. Darlington, Jr., and Mrs. Louis Allison. Outlining of committees to serve on the club board, for the remainder of the year took place at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Meredith. The names of the women will be announced Friday.

Plans are being laid, according to Mrs. Meredith for a number of social functions at the club, following the opening day which is set for July 24. The original opening day was arranged for next Thursday, but was postponed owing to the date conflicting with Chautauqua week.

About twenty of the 80 women club members, attended the meeting Wednesday.

NEW YORK PASTOR INVITED TO XENIA

A call was extended to the Rev. J. P. Lytle, United Presbyterian pastor of New York City, to take the pastorate of the First United Presbyterian Church, this city, by officials of the local church at a meeting Wednesday night.

The Rev. Mr. Lytle is the first pastor that has been called to the Xenia pulpit since Dr. D. D. Dodds, left to take a pastorate in the East.

It is hoped by members of the local congregation that the Rev. Mr. Lytle will accept the call. He is a graduate of Princeton Seminary.

Dorothy Kaufman Intl

One of the strangest murder mysteries of recent years was the stabbing to death of Dorothy Kaufman, a beautiful governess in the home of Magruder Craighead, near Scarsdale, N. Y. Born in a Mennonite Colony in Maryland and given a college education, the girl became principal of the Mennonite school at Shelltown. But

INSPECT PLANT AT THACKERY, OHIO

J. T. Travers, Columbus, state supervisor of streams and Kail L. Keller, Greene County Game Protector, who conducted an investigation of the purifying system at the Hagar traw Board and Paper Company plant at Cedarville Wednesday went from here to Thackery, near Springfield, to inspect another purification plant.

The branch creamery there of The Springfield Dairy Company, had been closed for some time under an injunction obtained against them because waste matter from the creamery is alleged to have killed fish in nearby streams. The company installed state endorsed purification vats, that are now preventing the stream pollution. The new system was inspected by the officials Wednesday afternoon.

LOCAL AUTOISTS WILL GET CARDS

Four thousand Greene County automobile owners, who have registered under the Atwood anti-theft law, will soon receive their registration cards which permits legalized travel in Canada and some of the eastern states.

Registration cards for Ohio autos are being prepared for issuance at once, the State Registrar announces. Over 300,000 automobilists in Ohio have obtained licenses but the registration cards without which travel in Canada or several eastern states is unlawful, have been delayed.

Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam said Thursday about 4000 automobiles are registered in Greene County and therefore eligible for the cards. He has no estimate of the entire number of machines in the county which is thought to run more than 5,000. All machines will have to be registered after July 26 when amendments to the Atwood Law become effective.

FRIDAY 13TH MAY GET SUPERSTITIOUS

Bad luck is all a matter of proportion. The unlucky combination of Friday and the figure 13 on the calendar gather together for their annual bad luck conclave Friday.

Everybody who gets out of bed on the wrong side Friday, finds the morning coffee cold, meets a bill collector on the way to work, gets hit by an automobile, or gets sunburned on the back of the neck will blame it on the combination bad luck day.

But consider the case of James Willons, 34, Columbus, colored, who will be electrocuted at the Ohio Penitentiary Friday for the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Hays. As if it wasn't bad luck enough to have a mother-in-law besides having to take a dose of electricity for bumping her off.

Willons will be featured as the forty-eighth person to be electrocuted under Warden Thomas' direction in the last ten years.

Now turn back and read the first sentence.

Dorothy Kaufman Intl

the restrictions of the Mennonite faith pallied on her. She wanted pretty clothes, like other girls. So she left home and went to work as a servant—and the first thing she bought was a pretty dress. Officials unable to solve the slaying, declare the belief that she was killed by a fanatical Mennonite, who thought thus to save her soul.

GIRL BLINDED BY YEARS IN DARK CELL

Mary Alexis + Nurse Intl

An astounding case of parental cruelty was bared in Memphis, Tenn., when a 10-year-old girl, known only as Mary Alexis, was examined by surgeons in St. Joseph's Hospital there. The child is almost entirely blind as a result of four years' imprisonment in an underground cell, constructed by her parents because she was deformed at birth.

A plumber, making repairs in the cellar of the home, heard sounds and traced them to a sub-cellar, where in total darkness, he came upon the emaciated, grime stained child. The girl has been in the hospital under treatment for three years, although her case has just become publicly known. The name of her parents has been withheld by authorities.

CHALK TALK IS FEATURE OF MEETING

John M. Davidson, gave an interesting "chalk talk" before members of the Xenia Kiwanis Club, at the noon meeting at the Elks' Club, Wednesday.

Mr. Davidson dwelt on the principals of all painting, particularly landscape painting. He spoke of the inexperienced painter, who does not realize that the colors of the scene to be painted depend on various conditions. He illustrated his talk with sketches on an easel, and brought out a number of things of importance in the profession.

S. M. McKay, club president, reported on the failure of the club boys' camp in getting started this summer due to the lack of interest on the part of the boys of the city. He also told of the trip of a number of Kiwanians to Greenville as guests of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, two weeks ago.

Charles Adair, has invited the organization to be guests at his bungalow on the Little Miami river, near Kil Kare Park, next Wednesday afternoon and evening. A buffet supper will be served, and games and water sports enjoyed.

ENTERTAINMENT TO BE HELD FRIDAY AT PLAYGROUND

Willow Tree Playground will be the scene of another entertainment Friday night similar to the entertainment held there recently according to plans of the Community Recreation Association.

The program will be in charge of Miss Eleanor Kiernan, supervisor of the playground. There will be various selections by children including singing and recitations, vocal selections and games. In addition to the children's part there will be a number of local talent features, including some entertainment volunteered by employees of the Ohio Mill of the Hoven and Allison Company.

The week end program of the Association also includes the baseball game in the Industrial League series. These include the contest between the Xenia Shoes and the Blue Heart at Washington Park at 2:30 o'clock; at the Commercial and the Binders at Reserve Park at 2:30 o'clock and the Pennsylvania Railroad against the Kelly Kords at Willow Tree Park at 3:45 o'clock.

The weekly community sing will be held on the Court House lawn Saturday night at seven o'clock and there will be a community sing Sunday evening at 6:50 o'clock at Willow Tree Park.

DECLARES LABOR TREATED UNFAIRLY

Washington, July 12.—Labor was treated unfairly in the coal commission's report on the anthracite industry, it was charged in a statement issued here by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. Real penalties for miners are contained in the report, while only phantom penalties for operators are included, Gompers said, particularly in that they are aimed at making strikes impossible. This contemplates "compulsory labor," he declared.

The coal miners had no representatives on the commission, Gompers said. "If there had been a single representative of the men who actually produce anthracite coal," he said, "the commission would scarcely have recommended that the president be given full power to fix the wages to be paid the workers in event of suspension of mining operations." He predicted that any attempt to outlaw strikes is doomed to failure.

JURY IN MURDER TRIAL IS READY

Pomeroy, July 12.—Prospects of securing a jury today to try James E. Miller, charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of Ed Eynolds at Vulcan Mine camp were bright when court resumed its sessions this morning. There were eleven jurors tentatively seated, and the defense retained but two peremptory challenges.

One hundred and sixty one men had been examined for jury service when court opened. A new venire appeared in court this morning, others having been exhausted.

Reynolds and James Swanner, also a West Virginian, were both killed when they appeared at Miller's home recently.

The defense alleges the men were about to kidnap Miller while the prosecution asserts that they were at the house to offer Miller, also a farmer West Virginian, immunity from prosecution if he would return and testify in cases growing out of the armed march of miners on Logan County in 1921.

IS ARRESTED HERE

C. M. Bunce, 51, was arrested by Acting Sergeant George Spencer and Patrolman Harry Cramer Wednesday on request of the Dayton Police, who sought Bunce on an assault and battery charge. Patrolman John O'Connor of the Dayton Police Department came to Xenia Thursday and returned Bunce to Dayton for trial.

DISRESPECT FOR FLAG ALLEGED

Springfield, O., July 12.—Removal of policemen responsible for the arrest of 72 members of the Ku Klux Klan, on charges of disorderly conduct, was demanded in resolutions passed by the Home City Council, Daughters of America. Disrespect to the flag by placing it in jail is the complaint of the resolution, which claims that the Klan funeral procession arrested was not disorderly.

PROPER REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS IN OHIO URGED BY STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

urged by Dr. John E. Monger, director of the State Department of Health, according to Dr. R. H. Grube, County Health Commissioner.

Registration has been effective since December 20, 1908. Due to failure of registration all births since that time are not recorded with the State Department. The law requires each birth to be reported within ten days from date of occurrence.

The physician is required to make the report. If no physician was in attendance, the duty is required of the midwife, father or mother of the child, householder or owner of the premises, manager or superintendent.

Dr. Monger says birth registration is necessary for the following reasons: Establish age; establish birth place; establish parentage; to establish legal facts in connection with guardianship; inheritance; mother's pension; insurance; compensation; federal claims, and passports.

Mothers, according to Dr. Monger, should insist on a certificate from the Health Commissioner showing her baby's birth has been recorded. Improved birth registration is directly dependent upon the mother's insistence of receiving such a certificate, says Dr. Monger. The department is looking to mothers to bring about better enforcement of the registration law.

MANY MINERS IDLE

WRIGHT FIELD HAS POWERFUL RADIO SENDING STATION

The largest and most powerful radio station in this section of the country is being used to broadcast consolidated weather reports to stations on the model airways of the army air service, at Wilbur Wright Field, Fairfield.

Under perfect conditions the set has a radiating limit of infinity. Its commercial effectiveness is considered to be about 1,000 miles. An emergency set with a range of 3,000 miles similar to that in use by the American Shipping Board will be installed soon.

The government meteorological station from McCook Field, Dayton, has been moved to Wright Field and will be soon functioning. The station will be placed in operation on top of the supply depot building. The new radio station has been in experimental operation more than three weeks.

The major duty of the new station will be to receive, co-ordinate and broadcast meteorological information to and from various air service airdromes included within the model airways. At present a regular flying schedule is maintained over the model airways between Mitchell Field, Long Island, N. Y., Bolling Field, Washington D. C., Langley Field, Norfolk, Va., Langin Field, Mountsfield, W. Va., Wright Field, McCook Field, Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill.; Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Mich., and Scott Field, Velleville, Ill.

Weather reports from each of these stations are received daily at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and every two hours thereafter until late in the afternoon. Consolidated information on these reports is then broadcasted to all model airways airdromes, furnishing pilots with actual weather condition information. Special items as to local storms and conditions are also relayed to the central station at Wright Field. Arrival and departure of all pilots will be broadcasted to airways headquarters at Bolling Field with the destination of the pilot, his home field and other information.

A complimentary service is also maintained with the aerial service, through an interchange of information. Data for the weather reports is obtained at periodical intervals at the meteorological stations at each airdrome. The work consists of determining the movement and velocity of air currents at all levels from the ground to 15,000 feet.

The equipment of the new station also recorded, carefully checked and forecast for the ensuing 24 hours.

The equipment of the new station consists of two steel antennae masts 165 feet high, set directionally with the city of Washington. Suspended between these is a five-wire antenna stretching 475 feet. From the center of this antenna a five-wire lead in drops vertically into the radio hut. The hut is the center of the ground system consisting of copper bands one-eighth inch thick and eight inches wide, laid on edge in three concentric circles.

The outer circle has a radius of 250 feet, the middle circle a radius of 125 feet and the center circle forms the center point and closely surrounds the radio hut. The concentric circles are joined radially at 19 points, the whole being thoroughly bonded and buried approximately 36 inches in the ground. From the center circle copper tubes are used as leads and brought up through the radio hut making the ground connection for the set.

The set is of standard signal corps type and is known as a 6-tube regenerative set. Plate current at about 1,500 volts is provided by a two-kilowatt direct current generator driven by an alternating current motor, current for which is taken directly from the power lines. Normal radiation of the set is 10 amperes but it has an emergency capacity of double that amount.

Broadcasting from the station will ordinarily be upon a 1,500 meter wave length. The equipment permits of radio-telephone broadcasting also. The station is a part of the regular army radio network that covers not only the United States and foreign possessions but all navy ships in harbor or at sea.

TRAFFIC SYSTEM IN DAYTON MAY BE ENTIRELY ALTERED

Xenia motorists should inform themselves of drastic traffic changes proposed for the city of Dayton by City Manager Eichelberger before the City Commission, Wednesday night.

The ordinance was placed on its first reading but City Manager Eichelberger urges its passage to alleviate extremely congested conditions in the business section. It is said. The proposed ordinance will prohibit diagonal parking in Ludlow, Fifth and Jefferson streets and will require parallel parking on these streets. Right hand turns at Third and Main and Fourth and Main streets will be prohibited and left hand turns at Fifth and Main Streets and Second and Main Streets will also not be allowed.

Turning of corners without a signal from the traffic officers will also be prohibited. Streets on which car tracks run will be designated as main thoroughfares and the privilege of the traffic to the right-of-way on these streets will be upheld.

NAVAL OFFICER IS VISITING IN XENIA

Lieut. Harry E. Rice, Jr., of the United States Battleship, Tennessee, one of the new units of the Pacific Fleet, has arrived here from Seattle, Wash., for a visit with his father, Postmaster H. E. Rice, and other relatives in Ohio.

Until recently Lieut. Commander Paine, an electrical expert, was on the Tennessee. He is a son of Elmer Paine, former Xenian, who has been with the Associated Press for several years.

Lieut. Rice commands a division on the battleship that shoots the fourteen inch guns, which have a range of a little more than 20 land miles. For four consecutive times Lieut. Rice has won first place on the Tennessee in target practice and is now rated as having the best turret in the fleet. He recently represented the ship at a cup presentation.

His record each time was 21 shots in three minutes at a coving target ten miles distant. Twenty-one shots cost $25,000. Fleet practice costs half a million dollars.

The Tennessee cost $32,000,000 and has among other devices, the so-called "fighting brain," an evolution growing out of experiences in the battle of Jutland.

WOLVERINES HERE

The Xenia Red Sox will play the Springfield Wolverines at Dickerson Park Sunday afternoon. It is announced.

WILLARD AND FIRPO SET FOR IMPORTANT BATTLE THURSDAY

New York, July 12.—That a good big man can beat a good little man is the existing belief in the ranks of pugilism.

But whether a good big man, endowed with skill and priceless experience can beat an equally good big man, with youth and strength in his favor, will be put to a test tonight when Jess Willard, former heavy weight champion, clashes with Luis Firpo, the meteoric South American, in a no-decision bout at Jersey City.

The winner has been promised a title bout with Jack Dempsey.

The Broadway gentry have made Firpo an 8 to 5 favorite. It is probable Firpo may even be a longer favorite as there was a preponderance of money bet on him this morning with little Willard currency showing.

Jimmy De Forest, Firpo's trainer said he has schooled his charge in his only apparent weakness—a left hand. De Forest claimed the South American is hitting as hard with his left as he is with his right.

Willard has rounded into perfect physical perfection, according to his trainer, Jack Skelly.

An interesting angle to the bout will be the battle of wits behind the lines. De Forest will be supreme in Firpo's corner. Skelly will have the say in Willard's corner. Both seconds are grizzled boxing authorities. De Forest has conditioned some of the members of boxing's hall of fame. Skelly was one of the best little men in his day.

Jack McAuliffe 11, meets Floyd Johnson, who recently fell before Big Jess in the semi-final.

CINCINNATI COCA COLAS WILL BATTLE BAYLIFFS SUNDAY

By Wones

Another K. I. O. League team will make its appearance here Sunday when the Coca Colas of Cincinnati play the Bayliffs. The soft drink boys will attempt to hand out a lacing to the swiftly moving Bayliffs at Washington Park Sunday afternoon.

The Coca Colas are said to be just as good if not better than the Movers of Cincinnati which team defeated the Bayliffs about three weeks ago by a 12 to 1 count. The Coca Colas are just fresh from a victory over the Armos and word from the "Cokes" camp indicates that they are going to dish out a nasty beating to the locals.

To do this will be a hard task as Manager Bayliff now has about as good a semipro club that comes down the pike. Bayliff has signed Webb Jones, a new twirler. Jones has been pitching baseball for something like ten years and during that time he has picked up all the fine points of the twirler's part on the diamond. Jones pitched a 13 inning game for the Yellow Springs Athletics several weeks ago when that team tackled the crack Harshmanville nine. Although Jones was beaten it was due to the support furnished by his mates.

Actual Worth of Your Money

People lose money because they look for too great returns. Usually the higher the promise of returns the greater the risk. That is because money is a commodity, to be bought in the market where safety is certain, at a fair figure which represents its actual net worth.

When more is paid, it is because higher inducements to get investments are necessary—and usually a higher risk. The Columbian Building and Loan Company pays its depositors the actual net worth of their money—now 6%. There is no risk, no inconvenience, no attention required. Simply ask $50 or more to the Columbian, ask for a Certificate of Deposit, and your money begins drawing interest at once.

Over $15,000,000.00 in assets protect you.

the rubber they will be mighty hard to beat. Fans who journey to Washington Park Sunday to see the struggle will be well paid for their efforts as the teams, on paper, look to be evenly matched.

The teams of the K. I. O. League are now having a series and when any team loses it is out of the League. So far the popmakers have not lost a game.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with Norris of Dayton in charge.

Strengthen Your Investment Securities and Increase Your Income

So many of our new investors this year, after worrying over the "ups" and "downs" of fluctuating stocks and bonds, or becoming discouraged by the low interest return of their holdings, have volunteered their greater satisfaction in the non-fluctuating type of our 6 1/2 and 7% First Mortgage Bond offerings. We will be glad to assist you in investing your funds safely in bonds of this kind and, upon request, will be glad to outline four ways open to most every investor to increase his income without sacrificing anything in the way of safety.

The bonds which we offer you are amply safeguarded in accordance with our Formula of Safety. Thousands of investors, as well as hundreds of banks and trust companies, throughout the United States have purchased from us many millions of dollars of First Mortgage Bonds, secured by improved city properties, and without the loss of one dollar. ## URGE PUBLIC TO BUY CHAUTAUQUA SEASON TICKETS

With Chautauqua's opening set for Sunday, the attention of Xenia citizens is called by those backing the project to the fact that they are faced by a guarantee of approximately 700 adult season tickets which must be sold before the opening performance.

The local committee wishes to make it plain that only season tickets are taken into consideration in making up this guarantee and those purchasing single admission tickets are in no way aiding the guarantors in raising the necessary amount which makes chautauqua an annual event in Xenia. It is further pointed out that all desiring tickets should make arrangements to purchase them before the opening day of Chautauqua in order that the solicitors will not have to make more than one trip to dispose of their tickets. Season tickets may be secured at the following places: Sayre and Hemphill Co., Mrs. Clara Restinger, Boring's Book Store, D. D. Jones Drug Store, D. E. Anderson's Insurance office, Edmund Meah's Restaurant, Lester Barnes Store, J. H. Whitmer and Carl Ervin's Auto Supply Store.

Any profits which the local organization may make over and above the guarantee are to be turned over to the Local Red Cross and Social Service League.

ABANDON PROJECT FOR Y. M. C. A. CAMP

Because officials of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. believed the water of Massies Creek was contaminated, consideration of the James Farm near Xenia, as a possible site for a permanent boys' camp, was abandoned by that institution Wednesday. The waters of the creek run through the farm.

A recent test of the water by Secretaries John L. Dorst, and C. E. Winchell, of the Springfield Y. M. C. A., revealed it is said that the stream was contaminated.

The abandonment of the James farm as a camp site is the last hope of the camp committee of the Springfield organization and no other site will be considered, since it was the only suitable one found during a search of three years.

TWELVE YEAR OLD GIRL IS MISSING

Cincinnati, July 12.—Another name was added to the list of missing women and girls on file at police headquarters last week when Frank Stifel, of Mt. Healthy Ohio, reported the disappearance of his daughter, Edith, 12 years old.

Circumstances surrounding the disappearance of the girl are similar to those leading to the disappearance of Freda Herberger, nine, two years ago. Stifel told police he sent his daughter to a grocery early yesterday. She did not reach the store.

14 SPRING VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Thompson of Middletown were Sunday guests of Mrs. Sarah Anabae.

Mr. William Williams of Chicago and Mr. Henry Williams and Mr. Herbert Williams of Richmond, visited part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Martha Bagford.

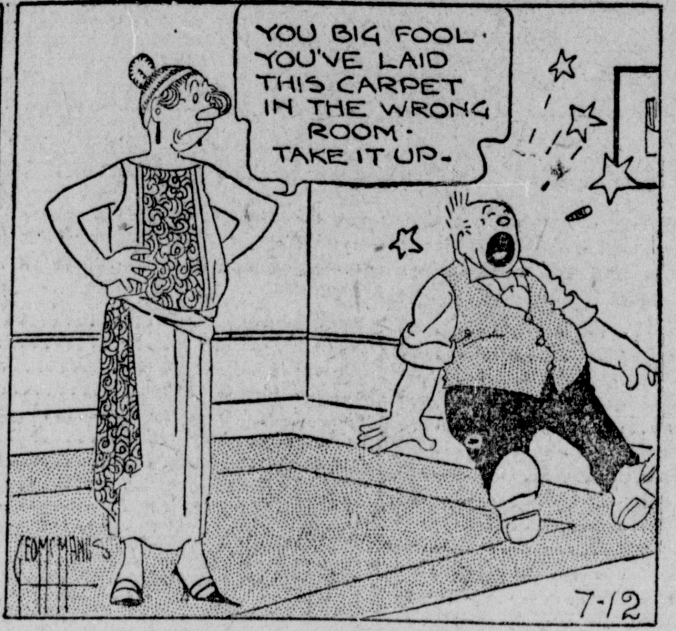

Mr. William Johnson of Dayton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander.

Mrs. Flora Mason spent part of this week with Mrs. Harry L. Graham (Martha Saylor) at Lytle.

The Sunday School class of which Mary Agnes Harper is the teacher, picked up at Bear Branch on the 4th. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harrison (Bell Barrett) and daughter of Indianapolis and son and family of Whittier California, attended the Friends Church here Sunday and renewed old acquaintances.

The Sunday School class of which Mrs. L. A. Peterson is teacher enjoyed a picnic in the church yard Tuesday afternoon.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Styles BY LENORE

None would ever expect to wear the fair feminine from their love of silken underthings, but at last perhaps they will be willing to share it with the irresistibly lovely cotton voile "pretties" that so many of the leading shops are featuring. Pale pink to deep rose, turquoise, faint yellows and vivid orange, and utterly delightful things in snowy white—this, you see, is the range of shades offered to tempt you.

The sets are made up of little vest chemises and pantaloons. They are trimmed usually with a bit of hand embroidery with hemstitching or a row work, like the model illustrated in the sketch. In this design ample fullness is provided for in the chemise, and unnecessary bulk dispensed with in the pantaloons. There are also nightdresses made up to complete the sets.

Embroidered batiste as a trimming is one of the new notes in silk things. An attractive example is the charming night dress of orchid crepe de chine with cream batiste bertha neck.

MYSTERY CASE IS FINALLY SOLVED

Cincinnati, O., July 12.—Part of the mystery surrounding the identification of "Margaret Messersmith," central figure in an escapade at the home of Carl Wiedemann, Newport, Ky. horseman, last week, was cleared yesterday when James T. Rucker, Eighth street and State avenue, filed suit in domestic relations court for a divorce from Margaret Rucker, "alias Margaret Messersmith."

According to Rucker's suit, his wife, whom he married February 6, 1923, at Hamilton, Ohio, uses "various aliases in her travels."

The girl, who is 16, is being held at Fort Thomas because of the escape at the Wiedemann home. She was found lying on the porch early Saturday morning and told several different versions of stories for her presence there.

THE MISFIT

By Jane Phelps

HARPER TELLS HORACE HE HAS SEEN NATALIE

Chapter XLIV

"Well, Crandell, so you've returned to the bosom of your family once more," Craig said, eyeing him sharply.

Horace made an evasive reply. "I saw Mrs. Crandell the other day. Not to talk with her, however. I thought she looked ill."

Horace stared at him. Natalie was in New York. He would find her. Horace started to speak, his training making him resent Harper's tone, his expression. Yet his anxiety to find Natalie was so great he would question him. But another member of the Club claimed his attention, and, when he looked again, Harper was no where to be seen.

Horace felt a quick thrill of joy. Natalie was in New York. If Harper had seen her, he would find out where and when. The rest would be easy.

But as he left the Club his elation died. He recalled the expression on Harper's face, his tone as he spoke to him. His old resentment, the jealousy he had felt the night he quarreled so bitterly with Natalie came back. How did it happen that Craig Harper had seen her, known of her presence in New York—evidently the only person who had seen her? Had Natalie let him know of her whereabouts while hiding it from him, her husband? If so, she could have but one reason—she cared for Harper and so was lost to him.

The thought was agony to the distraught man. He clenched his hands, he muttered:

"I'll not believe it until she tells me so herself." Yet he no longer thought of finding Harper, of questioning him. Natalie was in the city. He would find her if he had to search it street by street, house by house.

Harper had said she looked ill. He must find her and unless she told him she no longer loved him, care for her. He went to the bank, found she had drawn none of the money deposited in her name. How had she lived? Had she been drugging in some office, his lovely Natalie? He had wronged her, had been bitter and cruel. His father had hurt her cruelly. He thought of her tone when she told him his mother had called her a "misfit" had compared her to a cabbage that could not be transplanted and grow a rose. No wonder she had fled from them. No woman with any spirit would have remained.

He thought of Etta, but he had gone there several times before he went abroad and had learned nothing of Natalie. Naturally if she were hiding she would not communicate with them, so giving a clue to her whereabouts—and if she had been with—Harper—

Try as he would, his mind continually veered back to this. Harper had seen her, knew more of her than his sarcastic question indicated. Harper was rich, fascinating to women because of his gay personality Natalie had turned to him even while with them because of her loneliness. Could he blame her if she had gone to him in her distressing need of help, of companionship?

Days passed, but he found no clue to his missing wife. He avoided the Club, felt he couldn't endure the sight of Harper. But finally he decided he would seek him, demand where Natalie was. She was still his wife. He had the right.

At the Club he found Harper. Said he:

"Harper, where did you see my wife?"

Craig, startled at the question, so abrupt, flushed, then replied: "I saw her on 80th Street. You know I have property in the vicinity."

"Are you sure it was Mrs. Crandell?" "Positive. She was wearing a young bob."

Horace visibly staggered back, shrank from the meaning look in Harper's face.

"What has happened between you and your wife I don't know," Harper went on after a moment. "But I saw her looking shabby, ill, wheeling a very young babe."

"Is that the only time you have seen

her?" Horace bent keen eyes upon him.

"For some time, yes. It seems to me you take mighty poor care of you family, Crandell." Craig sneered, and turned away quickly before Horace could question him further.

"What is it? What's between them?" Horace said between clenched teeth. "I'll find her—or I'll drag it out of him."

INTERSTATE COMMERCE PROTECTED BY RULING OF U. S. DISTRICT COURT

Injunction Against Railway Shopmen is Made
Permanent

Attorney General Obtained
Temporary Writ About
a Year Ago.

Chicago, July 12.—The temporary injunction obtained October 5, last, by Attorney General Daugherty, restraining striking railway shopmen from interfering with interstate commerce, was made permanent in a decision handed down at ten a. m. today by United States District Judge Wilkerson, sitting in Chicago.

The government was represented in arguments before the court prior to the decision and in the courtroom today by Jacob M. Dickerson, and Orville J. Taylor, both of Chicago, special assistants to the attorney general.

In the language of the temporary injunction obtained almost a year ago shopcraft employees are restrained from the following:

1.—In any manner interfering with, hindering or obstructing said railroads (fifty plaintiffs) in the operation of their respective railroads and systems of transportation or the performance of their public duties and obligations in the transportation of passengers and property in interstate commerce and the carriage of mails and from in any manner interfering with, hindering or obstructing the officers, agents, servants or employees of said railroad companies, or any of them and from preventing or attempting to prevent any person or persons from freely entering into or continuing in the employment of said railroad companies.

2.—In any manner conspiring, combining, confederating, agreeing and arranging with each other or with any other person or persons, organizations or associations to injure or interfere with or hinder said railway companies.

3.—Loitering or being unnecessarily in the vicinity of the points and places of ingress or egress of the employees of said railway companies or aiding, abetting, directing for encouraging any person or persons organization or association to do any of the acts heretofore described.

4.—Inducement, or attempting to induce with intent to further said conspiracy by the use of threats, violent or abusive language, approbrious epithets, physical violence or threats thereof any person or persons to abandon the employment of said railroad companies.

5.—Engaging, directing or procuring others to engage in the practice commonly known as "picketing."

6.—Congregating or maintaining any pickets.

7.—Doing or causing any bodily harm to employees of said railway companies.

8.—Directly or indirectly hindering operation of trains.

9.—In any manner directing any person to abandon employment of said railroad companies.

"Continuance of wheat at the dollar a bushel mark means nothing short of bankruptcy for the thousands of farmers, who are dependent on the price they get for their wheat for a livelihood," said Mr. Bradfute.

Unless there is an immediate upward turn of the market for which at present, I can see no hope, there will be nothing for these farmers to do except throw up their hands and quit or put themselves heavily in debt in order to survive until better prices prevail.

"Dollar wheat in Chicago means that the farmer is unable to purchase the necessities for himself and his family."

"The farmer's purchasing power is based on the price his wheat brings. When it is low, he has to deliver more wheat to secure a dollar's worth of merchandise. The more wheat he has to deliver for each dollar's worth, the quicker his supply is exhausted and the less he gets for his money."

Mr. Bradfute declared that the loss to the farmer in revenue from wheat based on a crop of 800,000,000 bushels has been approximately $30,000,000 during the past two weeks when wheat dropped from $1.10 a bushel to its present level of $1.

Very few sections of the United States will be affected either directly or indirectly. The only salvation is that wheat will shortly take an upward turn. Frankly, I am unable at present to see much hope for this. The farmer has overproduced."

In these words, O. E. Bradfute, president of the American Farm Federation Bureau, today epitomized the situation facing the great army of approximately 3,000,000 wheat farmers in the grain belts, following a drop of ten cents a bushel on wheat in the past two weeks.

HARDING SCHEDULE ALTERED TO PERMIT ANOTHER JOURNEY

Presidential Party Will
Take Trip To Skagway
It Is Announced

Skagway, Alaska, July 12.—The itinerary of President Harding's party was altered to permit a side journey to Skagway and a view of Muir glacier, one of the most noted ice formations in Alaska.

Leaving Juneau after a delightful entertainment by citizens of Alaska's capital, the Henderson sailed through Lynn canal up to Skagway. A brief stop was made, after which the transport doubled on her course in order to get a view of the mammoth Muir glacier, named for the noted American naturalist. The president expressed great interest in viewing the ice mountain. The transport then proceeded on its way to Seward, crossing the Gulf of Alaska and getting for the first time into open sea, the entire voyage since leaving Tacoma having been through the inside passage, where smooth water prevails. It is expected that the party will reach Seward Friday, when a train on the government railway will be taken to Fairbanks.

RUMBLINGS OF STEEL STRIKE FAIL TO ALARM HEAD OF INDUSTRY

Judge Gary Declares Men Are Satisfied and Blames
Outside for Stirring up Trouble in the
Business In Interview

New York, July 12.—Rumblings of a new nation-wide steel strike penetrating the offices of the United States Steel Corporation today, failed to visibly alarm Elbert H. Gary, board chairman, and spokesman for the steel industry.

Judge Gary had before him a despatch containing demands leaders in the new unionization movement within the steel industry say they will make on the corporation:

- 1—A higher wage.
- 2—Improved working conditions.
- 3—The universal eight-hour day.
- 4—Stricter immigration laws.

SAYS ONLY HOPE IS IN NOMINATION

Detroit, July 12.—Henry Ford's only chance of becoming president of the United States lies in his nomination by one of the major parties, declared Senator Charles E. Townsend today. Townsend, who is in Detroit in the interest of the lakes to sea waterway project, scoffed at the Ford third party talk. "Ford's chances of winning an election should be run on a third party ticket would be very poor," he declared. "I do not believe that Ford possesses the qualifications that a president of the United States should have, nor do I believe that Ford thinks he is qualified for such a position," he continued. "I do not wish to intimate that Mr. Ford is not a good man," Mr. Townsend said. "I think he is a fine man—a man with a big heart, but a president must possess qualities that Mr. Ford does not have."

HARPER CHARGED WITH VIOLATION

Columbus, O. July 12.—Violation of the civil service law by State Welfare Director Harper has been charged by William D. Foulke, president of the National Civil Service Reform League.

FRENCH PREMIER IS NOT WORRIED OVER SITUATION

Break With England
Threatens to Disturb
Peace of Europe

PUBLIC EXPECTANT

Many Visitors In House
of Commons to Hear
Baldner's Statement

Paris, July 12.—"I am confident. I am not worried."

That was Premier Poincare's message to the French senate as the break with England on reparations loomed today to threaten the peace of Europe.

"France has need of England," said Poincare, "but England needs France just as much. If England breaks away from us, she will be back at our side two days later."

"France was need of England," said Poincare, "but England needs France just as much. If England breaks away from us, she will be back at our side two days later."

France awaited Premier Baldwin's statement in the British House of Commons calmly. In official circles there was assurance that the French position is advantageous.

The French viewpoint is something like this:

France holds the Ruhr and the Rhineland and is strategically strong. England holds nothing and is therefore weak.

If England undertakes a separate agreement with Germany what will it profit her? Obviously nothing, because the army—like the "sacred" of France—holds Germany's most productive provinces.

The French apparently also believe Premier Baldwin will be overthrown or his position greatly weakened if his policy results in a break with France.

London, July 12.—Great Britain will draft a reply to the latest German note on reparations, and submit it to the allied powers for their approval, Premier Stanley Baldwin announced in the House of Commons this afternoon.

"We hope the Allies will join with us," the prime minister said. "If they do not, England will be forced to act independently."

"France's course is endangering the peace of the world," Baldwin said.

Every seat in the House of Commons was reserved today for Premier Stanley Baldwin's statement on reparations.

DANGER OF COAL STRIKE BELIEVED TO HAVE PASSED

Miners Expected to Accept
Proposals Made By
Operators

Washington, July 12.—There is no anthracite coal strike in the air.

This assurance was given by a government authority on coal matters who is keeping in close daily touch with the progress of the anthracite joint wage conference at Atlantic City.

Around Aug. 20, it was stated, the miners will agree to the operators' proposal, twice rejected within the past week, that they continue at work after Sept. 1, in event a new joint wage agreement has not been entered into, pending conclusions of negotiations.

By Aug. 25 operators and miners are expected to be in agreement on all essential points of controversy. It may, however, be necessary to continue the joint conference beyond that date to dispose of minor points. The operators, it was stated, will accede to the miners' demand for higher wages, but not the 20 per cent raise the miners are now demanding. A compromise of 10 per cent increase will be reached.

It was pointed out that the operators have already agreed in principle to three of the principal demands of the miners: First, they have recognized the justice of the miners' demand that the 9, 10 and 12-hour day in mine work be eliminated and the industry be put on a maximum 8-hour basis; second, the operators have agreed to the proposal that arbitration of grievances be speeded up with decisions within 30 days after reference to an umpire, and third, the operators have recognized the justification of the miners' contention for an upward revision of mine wages by offering a 5 per cent increase at the outset.

RECORD OF TOWN BROKEN BY CRIME

Cincinnati, O. July 12.—The boast of Clevelands that it never had a murder, was tabled last night when Nathan Hank, 58, bartender in the cafe of Gus Robb died in General hospital, Cincinnati, of gunshot wounds received July 4, after an argument with Benjamin Walford, 36, Hoovert, Ohio.

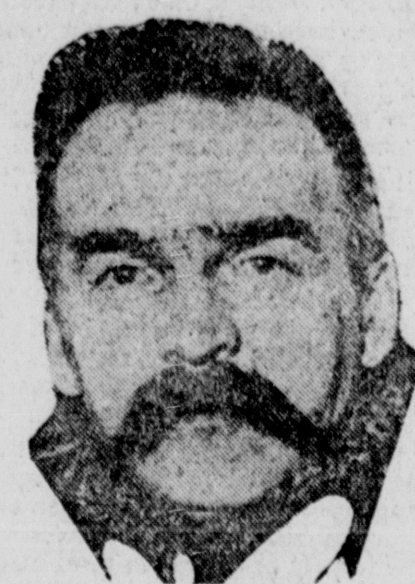

According to Marshal C. W. Ballenger, Hanks accused Walford of intentionally breaking a glass and Walford drew a revolver and fired.

For years Clevelands has boasted that its record has been clean, and citizens of the town were perturbed when the shooting affair occurred.

MAN IS MURDERED

Youngstown, O. July 12.—Patsy Cilope, Girard merchant, missing since June 28, was found along the Mahoning river, about a mile from his store. His throat had been cut and he had been robbed of a gold watch and $110. Sheriff Thomas of Trumbull county found a note in Cilope's pocket containing the names of four suspects arrested last week and still being held, and four other Italians, one of whom was arrested at Kent.

FATE OF MATRON OF GIRLS' SCHOOL RESTS WITH COMMISSION

Evidence and Arguments
Are Closed at Delaware
Late Wednesday

Columbus, O. July 12.—If vindicated by the Ohio civil service commission, Mrs. Mae Stannard, former matron of the Girl's Industrial school at Delaware, will go back to the institution and "clean house" she told the International News Service today.

"The disloyal officers and employees who constantly hampered me and who, during my entire administration tried to 'get me' have got to go if I return," she declared.

The question of whether or not Mrs. Mae Stannard, is to be reinstated as matron of the Delaware Girl's Industrial Home, was in the hands of the State Civil Service Commission today.

Evidence and arguments were closed at Delaware late yesterday. Director Harper, of the Welfare Department dismissed Mrs. Stannard, charging her with inefficiency. She asserted that Harper was inspired by political motives, evidence having shown that Mrs. Stannard discharged the mother-in-law of Governor Donahy, who was a cottage matron.

The Civil Service Commission consists of one Democratic and one Republican, both appointees of former Governor Davis. In case of a deadlock vote of the commissioners, the law provides the dismissal will stand.

However, officials of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, who have backed Mrs. Stannard during the hearing, were preparing today to carry the case to the civil courts if an unfavorable decision is given.

BANK IS ROBBED BY TWO BANDITS

The daring daylight holdup was perpetrated with only two witnesses, the cashier, C. E. Fulkerson and his assistant Laura Thompson. The men escaped.

The alleged "parlor pi who was accused of securing 60 shares of stock from an aged Erie, Pa. woman by misrepresentation. Governor Donahy caused the stock and $75 in commissions, said to have been received by Kirchner to be returned, but refused to honor the Pennsylvania requisition.

WAY NOW CLEAR FOR DIPLOMATIC FORMALITIES REGARDING TREATIES

Final Acceptance By France of Naval Pacts Opens the Road—to Exchange Ratifications of Four
Power Agreement

Washington, July 12.—In accordance with agreements reached at the Washington conference, the State Department today made preparations for the formal exchange of ratifications of the four power Pacific Treaty and the naval limitation treaty signed here on Dec. 13, 1921.

Although the terms of the treaties have been generally observed by the signatory powers ever since they were concluded, the pacts do not actually become effective until ratifications have been deposited in Washington.

Final acceptance by France of the naval treaties now clears the way for the diplomatic formalities which will mark the accomplishment of the work of the Washington conference.

When the four power treaty goes into effect, the Anglo-Japanese alliance, signed in London on July 13, 1911, will be automatically terminated.

FILES OUSTER SUIT

Columbus, July 12.—Attorney General Crabbe filed ouster proceedings in the supreme court against the Sanusky, Mansfield and Newark Railway company and the city of Sanusky. Crabbe claims that railway purs have been constructed over public property in Battery park, Sanusky, which was dedicated originally to the pleasure of the public.

PANAMA CANAL TO BE WIDENED IS ARMY PLAN

Scheme is Part of War
Department Program
For Defense

COST 50 MILLIONS

Expansion of Trade Necessitates Either Change or
New Waterway

Washington, July 12.—Part of the army and navy plan for strengthening defenses in the Pacific contemplates widening the Panama canal, it was learned here.

Tentative blueprints are understood to have been prepared by the engineers and it is likely that congress will be asked to authorize the improvement.

The "bottle neck" which needs widening is Gatun lock, and the cost would be $50,000,000, according to engineering authorities. The canal is 110 feet wide and the concrete locks 1,000 feet long at this point. The widest battleship is 105 feet and passenger vessel about 100 feet.

Albert D. Lasker, former chairman of the shipping board, declared on the Levitation at Southampton, England, that the canal would need to be widened to meet the requirements of ocean liners the United States would build, and it is believed he reflects the views of President Harding on this subject.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of naval aeronautics, asserted that in his opinion the widening would be necessary in the near future. He said the battleship Mississippi, of only 32,000 tons, could hardly get through on a voyage some time ago. He was aboard and noted the difficulties.

Starr Truscott, civilian employee of the engineering division of naval aeronautics, who was assistant engineer four years in the construction of the Gatun locks and other work, asserted that a lower "divide" had been found near Colombia. The "divide" is the stack of mountains through which the cut must be made. Had airships surveyed the route instead of parties on foot and horseback, the present route would not have been chosen, and considerable money could have been saved, he believes. The route followed took the diggers to a considerably higher "divide," he said.

The United States is now negotiating new treaties with Panama.

Engineer and military folk have expressed the opinion that the future expansion of American and foreign trade will necessitate either a widening of the Panama canal or the construction of an extra waterway.

GOVERNORS OF TWO STATES IN DISPUTE

Columbus, July 12.—The second refusal to honor a requisition for the return to Pennsylvania of C. A. Kirchner, Cleveland stock salesman, charged with fraudulent conversion of funds, may cause a serious rupture between Governor Donahy and Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, it was learned today.

Kirchner is the alleged "parlor pi who was accused of securing 60 shares of stock from an aged Erie, Pa. woman by misrepresentation. Governor Donahy caused the stock and $75 in commissions, said to have been received by Kirchner to be returned, but refused to honor the Pennsylvania requisition.

TWO WOMEN BADLY HURT

Cleveland, July 12.—Two women were perhaps fatally injured in a crash between the autos of O. N. Payne, Painesville, O., and Henry Hallock, president of the Ohio Rubber company, in Lakewood. Mrs. Gusie Payne, 54, and Mrs. Celia Masters, 76, her sister, Painesville, were taken to Lakewood hospital in a critical condition.

Drafting Youth for Education

Thousands of Young Men Acquired a Taste for Education Which is Now Making Itself Felt Throughout the United States

THE colleges of the United States are flooded with students. The pressure on many has been so great that they have been compelled to increase the severity of their examinations in order to control numbers. Many reasons have been given for the increased demand for higher education. No single cause controls but unquestionably one has been the great impetus given to many young men by their army experience.

Looking back a few years it would seem that the United States had grown somewhat complacent in its thought about its common school and higher education. The little red school house had grown familiar to our thought and we knew that there were colleges everywhere.

But the result of the draft examinations came as a shock. Not only was there a high percentage of illiteracy but altogether too many foreign-born young men had grown to maturity as American citizens unable to speak or understand the English language.

One of the first educational problems beyond the technical training of soldiers was met in the earlier officers' training camps by the teaching of French preparatory to overseas service. In addition to this, classes in elementary English and mathematics were arranged for contingents of the regular army and in the National Guard Camps.

EDUCATION AIDED BY THE NEWSPAPERS

The rapid assembling of the National Army brought a real educational task. During the first months of our war experience it was on a voluntary basis and informal methods were followed. Organization into class work was pushed at the same time, the largest classes being for illiterates and non-English speaking foreigners with which was combined a certain amount of instruction in civics and elementary history. The majority of teachers during these early months were volunteers either from among the soldiers themselves or from neighboring educational institutions. The military difficulty of dealing with soldiers who were not only unable to read or write but in many cases to understand English made this work most important. In May, 1918, the Development Battalions were formed for the purpose of giving intensive training to those who had not had previous opportunities.

At the same time the French methods and courses were systematized and provision was made for instruction to be given by the Y. M. C. A. under supervision of the Chief Intelligence Officer of each camp, attendance to be mandatory for such officers and enlisted men as he might designate.

No nation gains so much information and education from newspapers as does the United States. In the early days of the camps newspaper clippings containing important news were pasted on bulletin boards or newspaper headlines were copied on blackboards. During the summer of 1917 John Stewart Bryan, of Richmond, Va., as a result of his own enterprise in publishing a paper for Camp Lee, conceived the plan of a nation-wide paper issued at the same time from some 46 points, with the same editorial policy but each containing local news. Local arrangements were made and on October 8, 1917, the first issue of "Trench and Camp" in 32 editions, was distributed at as many camps.

While the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. financed this undertaking, it was in every sense a soldier's paper. We quote from an editorial in the first issue: "Through 'Trench and Camp' all the soldiers will be kept informed of the activities of the army. They will have their news from home, news from the front, news from their own camps. We hope to make 'Trench and Camp' a vital, living transcript of the life of the army that has been formed to keep civilization alive."

Some of the foremost cartoonists, illustrators and special writers in America contributed especially prepared drawings and articles. The local papers were filled with articles, news and pictures of interest to the camps where the editions appeared. At its maximum the publication reached editions of over 500,000 from more than 40 camps. Distribution to soldiers was free; civilians paid a nominal charge intended to cover the cost of paper and mailing.

Welfare experience demonstrated that the young soldier was anxious to learn, and he was given full opportunity. These scenes show classes in penmanship and typewriting.

On January 18, 1918, Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes, Secretary of Yale, arrived in France under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. In February he made a report to the Chief Secretary for transmission to the Commander-in-Chief of the army. This report anticipated the problem when the fighting would be over. These plans were approved. In April, 1919, the Educational Commission was mobilized as the "Army Educational Corps in the American Expeditionary Forces." We quote from General Pershing's General Order No. 30:

"The Commander-in-Chief invites the attention of organization commanders and all officers of the American Expeditionary Forces to the importance of national education. This citizen army must return to the United States prepared to take an active and intelligent part in the future progress of our country. Educational and occupational training should therefore be provided to meet the needs of the members of the A. E. F. in order that they may become better equipped for their future responsibilities."

There were post schools, divisional centers, and a university at Beaune

in a base hospital camp containing 200 buildings. Here students began to arrive on March 7, 1919, and it was not long before 6,000 were working on a wide range of studies, which they attended "on detached service" with full pay.

One of the needs of the men on discharge was education. Funds were set aside for this purpose and a comprehensive plan made for all grades of schools from the most elementary to colleges and universities; instruction was also provided in correspondence and night schools.

One of the most striking lessons of the war was the discovery of the needs of better education for our young men. The draft revealed that more than 20% of those fitted for military service could not read a newspaper. This is a lesson the Army has learned as it is today continuing to make not only better soldiers but better citizens by carrying on the educational plan established during the war days. There has come into our civil life, too, an impulse toward more thorough and comprehensive education. Would it not be well to have an educational draft for our young men?

RECRUIT IS KILLED AT CAMP KNOX

Louisville, Ky. July 12—Private Leonard Lawson Company D, Tenth Infantry, of Middletown, Ohio, was shot and killed accidentally at 7 o'clock yesterday at Camp Knox by Private Milford E. Coll, Company A, Tenth Infantry, of Sabina, Ohio.

The two men, who were on duty with the prison guard detachment under Captain Heintz, Provost Marshal were recruits. The shooting occurred when the night guard reported off duty and the day guard went on. Both men had been on the night guard, and Coll was unloading his pistol, when it was discharged, the bullet striking Lawson and killing him instantly.

Two men were arrested pending a complete investigation of the shooting of Lawson. Those held are Private Milford E. Coll, Co. A Tenth Infantry and Albert J. Hulsmann of the same company, both of whom claim the fatal shooting was accidental.

Look After Gas Leaks

This is a good time to inspect your natural gas house lines for leakage. A considerable amount of gas escapes in many houses from easily prevented leakage.

The best way to make the test is to be sure no fires are burning and then after an hour or so inspect the little dial on your meter. If it has moved you may be sure gas is escaping somewhere.

Easily Located

To locate the leak, cover all joints and couplings with strong suds. If the gas bubbles through, you have found a leak. Don't try to locate it with a match or a torch. You might start a fire.

Usually the leak should receive the attention of a pipe fitter. Sometimes tightening a coupling will take care of it. Leaks at the valves of cooking ranges are not uncommon—and a small leak may cost considerable during the month.

ONE AMERICAN WHO HAS HELPED GREATLY OVER THERE.

Colonel W. B. Causey, of Suffolk, Va., is one American who has given us a good name in Europe. To the average European, Hoover is the great figure in America. In Austria he must share his distinction with Colonel Causey, who has lived in Vienna since 1919 as technical adviser on railways to the Austrian Government. But he expanded his job until it grew far beyond the narrow limitations of his titular employment. He worked with and for the Austrians in solving all of their post-war economic problems.

Here at home Colonel Causey was a railroad man. He knew transportation; how to build a railroad and how to operate it. He became one of the practical, efficient executives that we like to think of as typical products of our business and industrial life. When we got into the World War, Colonel Causey went to France as lieutenant colonel of an engineer regiment. After the armistice he was sent to Vienna as an expert on coal and transportation. He made good. He broke down the railway congestion and the trade barriers that were starving the Austrians. He got in coal and food. He made himself indispensable and a national figure. When the time came to get out of the army, the Austrians and the Inter-Allied Commission kept him on at his post with added responsibilities.

Now that Austria is coming slowly back to prosperity with her finances under the control of the League of Nations, Colonel Causey at last finds it possible to leave his post and come home again. He has had a great adventure. He has left a lasting memory of his personality and his capacities in Austria, and he has helped the prestige of America in Europe by his unselfish service. The Austrian Foreign Minister pronounces him "one of our most useful friends." He is one America abroad who has brought honor to his own country.

ALASKA INDIANS COMPLAIN THAT CANNERIES HAVE CUT OFF THEIR FOOD SUPPLY.

The ancient conflict which followed the white man's march was revealed to President Harding immediately on setting foot in Alaska when a native Indian, struggling with English, told a plaintive tale of individual sacrifice to the methods of civilization.

George Alexander, a dark brown brother, told of conditions before the salmon-canneries came and game was plentiful within a half-mile of the Metakala post and a boatload of fish was easily caught. At present the canneries have the creeks trapped and the natives are forced to beg for fish. The old Indian's voice choked as he related his story in halting phrases to the President, Secretary Hoover and the Governor General. The incident is regarded as indicating that President Harding is to hear native protests against Mr. Hoover's fisheries leasing systems from one end of Alaska to the other. There is no native industry, and the bureaucratic rows between Secretaries Work and Wallace as to which department is in control have made the natives very bitter against the canneries and Federal control of the fishing grounds.

Harding, the first President to set foot in Alaska, might well have been landing at any obscure continental spot. Native girls in pretty white dresses, the adults in conventional store clothes, the children with streaming flower wreaths, a band playing familiar tunes and a youth with a folding camera taking pictures, greeted the Chief Executive. Exercises were held in the school, a better building than is found in many rural communities in the United States, while the weather was as warm as in Washington.

"HARMLESS" BEER.

A policeman has about the largest opportunity to study humanity of any public officer. Even professional reformers who are constantly talking about the need of bettering conditions do not actually know from personal experience the facts that the policeman knows. And when a policeman has been on duty for 41 years, as Mr. Edwin Piper has been in the city of Boston, his observations and conclusions as to the causes of crime and trouble are worth considering.

He says in a letter to the Springfield Republican: "Liquor is the chief cause and the greatest curse of humanity, in any and all forms of criminality and trouble."

On his first beat in six years he made 791 arrests, "relating to all kinds of law violation. There were wife-beaters, thieves, murderers, men so brutal that they would strike down their wives with large sticks of wood or any other implement they might find convenient. I rescued nine persons from drowning during that time and recovered many bodies from the harbor. In all this list of crime and trouble, liquor was the chief cause. It would be impossible to overstate the curse it was to many homes that came under my observation."

As to beer this policeman with 41 years' experience with drinkers says: "My experience with drinking is that beer drinkers become more gluttonous, more degraded and often more brutal than any other kind of drunkards."

And yet Mr. Gompers and other labor leaders would have the country believe that "harmless" beer and light wine are necessary "nourishment" for the poor working man. The plea of the light wine and beer advocates is that these liquors are harmless, and while they say they do not want the old saloon to come back, they do not tell us how these "harmless" liquors are to be sold or bought without creating the old saloon business.

Mr. Piper's conclusions as to law enforcement are also worthy of careful notice: "I am a hearty advocate," he says, "of prohibition and believe that law enforcement in this direction should be as vigorous as in any other and that the public sentiment of the community should support all officers of the law who are trying to make Boston a clean city to live in."

For Boston read New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Denver and your own home town.

UNCLE SAM'S LITTLE OLD MAN OF THE (WHI) SKEE

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Rev. T. A. Glynn, who has had charge of the Third Baptist church for the past eleven months, is no longer pastor over that flock, his resignation having been received and accepted last night. To say that his resignation created consternation among his members is putting it mildly—it simply dumfounded them.

Xenia is full of people today. It is so long since a big show struck this city that John Robinson's circus and a fine day brought everybody in from many miles.

If flying machines were a success, how many people would trust them, how many people could stand to take a trip in one of them? Well, it is better for most people.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Greiner and little daughter are expected to arrive in the city tomorrow from Kansas City and will be the guest of relatives.

happiness to my neighbor, then I believe in earrings for her; if she loves and longs for earrings—then she is foolish not to give herself this simple pleasure if she can possibly manage to afford it.

Another woman might find satisfaction in putting perfume in the water in which she shampoos her hair. I personally don't like perfume. But if she loves to have her hair faintly scented—then by all means she should indulge herself in this simple way. Why not?

There are troubles enough and disappointments enough in our lives to make them drab-colored, without cheating ourselves of the harmless little pleasures which mean so much to us, day in, day out. We can't all like the same things. Let us, then, be tolerant of each other's tastes and admire each other for snatching a little joy by the wayside. Let us bring the picnic spirit into our lives—and clutch our day, or our brief hour, of joy while we may.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 24 4th, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

AS A BOY
"I knew him as a boy," he said,
"Knew him when his feet were bare
And upon his youthful head
Grew a mass of tousled hair.
Never thought some day I'd see
Him the governor of the state!
He was just a boy to me,
Carrying home his book and slate."

He had known a famous man,
Known him in his youthful days,
So I questioned: "If you can,
Tell me of his early ways.
You have seen him come and go,
You have heard his lighter gay.
You were privileged to know
One whom the world applauds today."

"Could you read it in his eyes?
Could you see it in his face?
Did you guess that he would rise
Some day to a lofty place?"

Were you kind to him back then?
Did you ever think or say
That the town would hear again
From the boy who'd gone away?"

"No, he slowly answered me;
'Had he not been crowned by fame
Quite forgotten he would be,
I should not recall his name.
There are twenty boys or more
Just like him from day to day
Romping, playing round my door,
That is all that I can say.'"

There are twenty boys or more
Romping round us, day by day—
What tomorrow holds in store,
None of us can truly say.
Yet when fame shall single out
One for glory and for joy
Some of us, beyond a doubt,
Shall have known him as a boy."

Today's Talk

BEING OF USE

The highest ambition of any life should be to be of use.

The accumulated pleasures of our everyday life melt quickly away unless there is at the heart of them—hidden deeply—the happiness of having done something that has made someone else happier.

And it doesn't matter greatly as to how we are made to give out our uses—ourselves being a multiplying proposition. Being of use in a small way, today may mean being of use to a great extent tomorrow or far into the years.

How the small kindness of the every hour fill the air of the every year with fragrance and beauty!

If we can't be of use to our friend, we are no friend.

And we ought to be of use in a way that shall call for happy sacrifices and work that is out of the way for us.

The richest rewards of service come from the depths of lame backs, sad and heavy hearts, and spirits that have been broken by disappointment and loss.

But being of use is the most regenerative feeling that can possibly come to one.

For when we experience the hidden beauties and helpfulnesses of someone else lifting us up from something that we have done to help them up—life stirs big for us! Try not to worry about accomplishing great things. Be of use right where you are—to whom you are with—and the great things will come of themselves.

A Garage?

A well-built garage of practical design is just as essential a part of your equipment as a set of tires. A garage of the design illustrated is practical, attractive and economical to construct. It may be built to house one, two or more cars.

The Convenience

of a garage is always appreciated when the weather is bad—or when one is obliged to be out at a very late hour. To be obliged to house your car in a garage blocks from your home is a decided inconvenience.

The presence of a well-built garage adds many times its cost to the value of your property.

Send for our booklet of garage designs—it's without charge.

MRS. EARLS TELLS WOMEN

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y. — "Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a headache, nosebleed, backache and pains that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, so I decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to be better, and my back did not hurt me nor my head ache. I felt like a new woman. The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it."—Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 630 N. 6th St., Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Kelsey adds her Testimony
Copenhagen, N. Y. — "I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my housework and help my husband out doors, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. HENRY KELSEY, R. F. D., Copenhagen, N. Y.

STATE SYSTEM OF WASTE CONTROL IN PLANT CONTEMPLATED

Following an inspection of the plant of the Hagar Straw Board and Paper Company at Cedarville, by J. T. Travers, state supervisor of streams and Karl L. Kähler, Greene County Game Protector Wednesday, officials expressed themselves as confident that the paper company will take immediate steps to remedy the situation which resulted in the killing of thousands of fish in Massies Creek last week. Company officials are said to have expressed themselves as willing to install equipment recommended by the state department and which has been improvised by Mr. Travers himself.

who succeeded in transferring them to clear water. Others perished by the hundreds and as many as possible were taken from stream and buried along the banks by men employed by the paper company. Some floated downstream and led to many inquiries received by Game Protector Keller from even as far as Warren and Hamilton Counties.

Company officials expressed regret for the action that led to the loss of fish. Their reservoirs, although not conforming entirely with state specification, had been working satisfactorily for nearly two years and eliminated former trouble. Their regret at the occurrence is expected to lead to the installation of the state-endorsed type of reservoirs.

Under this system, the 800,000 gallons of water that pour through the mill daily, will flow through a series of reservoirs. From one, the water will flow over the top into a second, and from that it will flow underneath into a third, and so on, alternating. When the waste water flows into the last reservoir from the bottom, a screen will catch the sludge depositing it on the bottom. Marl, lime and other alkalis will be used in the water to reduce the poison so that it will flow off about 98 to 99 per cent pure. The sludge can then be reclaimed and sold as fertilizer.

Installation of this system to prevent stream pollution is expected to eliminate the killing of fish in the future. It is expected that no action will be taken.

AMOUS GENERAL OF FRANCE PASSES THROUGH XENIA

General Henri Joseph Engene Gouraud, noted French military leader during the World War, who is a guest of Dayton people Thursday, passed through Xenia on his way to Dayton Thursday morning at 6:45 o'clock over the Pennsylvania Lines. General Gouraud's special car was attached to a regular passenger train. The General did not make his appearance while the train stopped here. Frederick B. Patterson, president of the National Cash Register Company and Colonel Noble Brandon Judah, of Chicago, his brother-in-law came to Xenia and boarded the General's private car here to accompany him to Dayton.

He was taken to breakfast at the home of Mrs. Joseph Crane and an elaborate program for the day arranged for him, including a dinner at the Miami Valley Hunt and Polo Club. Colonel Judah came from Chicago to assist in the entertainment which includes an air service.

WOMEN MEMBERS OF CLUB ORGANIZE

Members of the general women's committee of the Xenia Country Club held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary M. Meredith, chairman, on North King Street, Thursday morning, for follow-up work, resulting from a meeting of women members of the club, called by W. C. Craig, at the club house, Wednesday afternoon. The general committee is composed of Mrs. Meredith, chairman; Mrs. Charles L. Darlington, Jr., and Mrs. Louis Allison. Outlining of committees to serve on the club board, for the remainder of the year took place at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Meredith. The names of the women will be announced Friday.

Plans are being laid, according to Mrs. Meredith for a number of social functions at the club, following the opening day which is set for July 24. The original opening day was arranged for next Thursday, but was postponed owing to the date conflicting with Chautauque week.

About twenty of the 80 women club members, attended the meeting Wednesday.

NEW YORK PASTOR INVITED TO XENIA

A call was extended to the Rev. J. P. Lytle, United Presbyterian pastor of New York City, to take the pastorate of the First United Presbyterian Church, this city, by officials of the local church at a meeting Wednesday night.

The Rev. Mr. Lytle is the first pastor that has been called to the Xenia pulpit since Dr. D. D. Dodds, left to take a pastorate in the East.

It is hoped by members of the local congregation that the Rev. Mr. Lytle will accept the call. He is a graduate of Princeton Seminary.

DID RELIGIOUS FANATIC KILL TO SAVE HER SOUL?

Dorothy Kauffman INTL

One of the strangest murder mysteries of recent years was the stabbing to death of Dorothy Kauffman, a beautiful governess in the home of Magruder Craighead, near Scarsdale, N. Y. Born in a Mennonite Colony in Maryland and given a college education, the girl became principal of the Mennonite school at Shilltown. But the restrictions of the Mennonite faith palled on her. She wanted pretty clothes, like other girls. So she left home and went to work as a servant—and the first thing she bought was a pretty dress. Officials unable to solve the slaying, declare the belief that she was killed by a fanatical Mennonite, who thought thus to save her soul.

GIRL BLINDED BY YEARS IN DARK CELL

Mary Alexis + Nurse INTL

An astounding case of parental cruelty was bared in Memphis, Tenn., when a 10-year-old girl, known only as Mary Alexis, was examined by surgeons in St. Joseph's Hospital there. The child is almost entirely blind as a result of four years' imprisonment in an underground cell, constructed by her parents because she was deformed at birth.

A plumber, making repairs in the cellar of the home, heard sounds and traced them to a sub-cellar, where in total darkness, he came upon the emaciated, grime stained child. The girl has been in the hospital under treatment for three years, although her case has just become publicly known. The name of her parents has been withheld by authorities.

CHALK TALK IS FEATURE OF MEETING

John M. Davidson, gave an interesting "chalk talk" before members of the Xenia Kiwanis Club, at the noon meeting at the Elks' Club, Wednesday.

Mr. Davidson dwelt on the principles of all painting, particularly landscape painting. He spoke of the inexperienced painter, who does not realize that the colors of the scene to be painted depend on various conditions. He illustrated his talk with sketches on an easel, and brought out a number of things of importance in the profession.

S. M. McKay, club president, reported on the failure of the club Boys' Camp in getting started this summer due to the lack of interest on the part of the boys of the city. He also told of the trip of a number of Kiwanians to Greenville, as guests of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, two weeks ago.

Charles Adair, has invited the organization to be guests at his bungalow on the Little Miami river, near Kil Kare Park, next Wednesday afternoon and evening. A buffet supper will be served, and games and water sports enjoyed.

ENTERTAINMENT TO BE HELD FRIDAY AT PLAYGROUND

Willow Tree Playground will be the scene of another entertainment Friday night similar to the entertainment held there recently according to plans of the Community Recreation Association.

The program will be in charge of Miss Eleanor Kierman, supervisor of the playground. There will be various selections by children including singing and recitations, vocal selections and games. In addition to the children's part there will be a number of local talent features, including some entertainment volunteered by employees of the Ohio Mill of the Hoeven and Allison Company.

The week end program of the Association also includes the baseball game in the Industrial League series. These include the contest between the Xenia Shoes and the Blue Heart at Washington Park at 2:30 o'clock; the Commercial and the Binders at Reserve Park at 2:30 o'clock and the Pennsylvania Railroad against the Kelly Kords at Willow Tree Park at 3:45 o'clock.

The weekly community sing will be held on the Court House lawn Saturday night at seven o'clock and there will be a community sing Sunday evening at 6:50 o'clock at Willow Tree Park.

DECLARES LABOR TREATED UNFAIRLY

Washington, July 12.—Labor was treated unfairly in the coal commission's report on the anthracite industry, it was charged in a statement issued here by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. Real penalties for miners are contained in the report, while only phantom penalties for operators are included, Gompers said, particularly in that they are aimed at making strikes impossible. This contemplates "compulsory labor," he declared.

The coal miners had no representatives on the commission, Gompers said. "If there had been a single representative of the men who actually produce anthracite coal," he said, "the commission would scarcely have recommended that the president be given full power to fix the wages to be paid the workers in event of suspension of mining operations." He predicted that any attempt to outlaw strikes is doomed to failure.

JURY IN MURDER TRIAL IS READY

Pomeroy, July 12.—Prospects of securing a jury today to try James E. Miller, charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of Ed Reynolds at Vulcan Mine camp were bright when court resumed its sessions this morning. There were eleven jurors tentatively seated, and the defense retained but two peremptory challenges.

One hundred and sixty one men had been examined for jury service when court opened. A new venire appeared in court this morning, others having been exhausted.

Reynolds and James Swanner, also a West Virginian, were both killed when they appeared at Miller's home recently.

The defense alleges the men were about to kidnap Miller while the prosecution asserts that they were at the house to offer Miller, also a farmer West Virginian, immunity from prosecution if he would return and testify in cases growing out of the armed march of miners on Logan County in 1921.

IS ARRESTED HERE

C. M. Bunce, 51, was arrested by Acting Sergeant George Spencer and Patrolman Harry Cramer Wednesday on request of the Dayton Police, who sought Bunce on an assault and battery charge. Patrolman John O'Connor of the Dayton Police Department came to Xenia Thursday and returned Bunce to Dayton for trial.

DISRESPECT FOR FLAG ALLEGED

Springfield, O., July 12.—Removal of policemen responsible for the arrest of 72 members of the Ku Klux Klan, on charges of disorderly conduct, was demanded in resolutions passed by the Home City Council, Daughters of America. Disrespect to the flag by placing it in jail is the complaint of the resolution, which claims that the Klan funeral procession arrested was not disorderly.

PROPER REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS IN OHIO URGED BY STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Proper registration of births is of public or private institutions. urged by Dr. John E. Monger, director of the State Department of Health, according to Dr. R. H. Grube, County Health Commissioner.

Registration has been effective since December 20, 1908. Due to failure of registration all births since that time are not recorded with the State Department. The law requires each birth to be reported within ten days from date of occurrence.

The physician is required to make the report. If no physician was in attendance, the duty is required of the midwife, father or mother of the child, householder or owner of the premises, manager or superintendent.

Dr. Monger says birth registration is necessary for the following reasons: Establish age; establish birthplace; establish parentage; to establish legal facts in connection with guardianship; inheritance; mother's pension; insurance; compensation; federal claims, and passports.

Mothers, according to Dr. Monger, should insist on a certificate from the Health Commissioner showing her baby's birth has been recorded. Improved birth registration is directly dependent upon the mother's insistence of receiving such a certificate, says Dr. Monger. The department is looking to mothers to bring about better enforcement of the registration law.

WRIGHT FIELD HAS POWERFUL RADIO SENDING STATION

The largest and most powerful radio station in this section of the country is being used to broadcast consolidated weather reports to stations on the model airways of the army air service, at Wilbur Wright Field, Fairfield.

Under perfect conditions the set has a radiating limit of infinity. Its commercial effectiveness is considered to be about 1,000 miles. An emergency set with a range of 3,000 miles similar to that in use by the American Shipping Board will be installed soon.

The government meteorological station from McCook Field, Dayton, has been moved to Wright Field and will be soon functioning. The station will be placed in operation on top the supply depot building. The new radio station has been in experimental operation more than three weeks.

The major duty of the new station will be to receive, co-ordinate and broadcast meteorological information to and from various air service airdromes included within the model airways. At present a regular flying schedule is maintained over the model airways between Mitchell Field, Long Island, N. Y., Bolling Field, Washington D. C., Langley Field, Norfolk, Va.; Langin Field, Mountsville, W. Va., Wright Field, McCook Field; Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill.; Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Mich., and Scott Field, Velleville, Ill.

Weather reports from each of these stations are received daily at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and every two hours thereafter until late in the afternoon. Consolidated information on these reports is then broadcasted to all model airways airdromes, furnishing pilots with actual weather condition information. Special items as to local storms and conditions are also relayed to the central station at Wright Field. Arrival and departure of all pilots will be broadcasted to airways headquarters at Bolling Field with the destination of the pilot, his home field and other information.

A complimentary service is also maintained with the aerial service, through an interchange of information. Data for the weather reports is obtained at periodical intervals at the meteorological stations at each airdrome. The work consists of determining the movement and velocity of air currents at all levels from the ground to 15,000 feet.

The equipment of the new station also recorded, carefully checked and forecast for the ensuing 24 hours.

The equipment of the new station consists of two steel antennae masts 165 feet high, set directionally with the city of Washington. Suspended between these is a five-wire antennae stretching 475 feet. From the center of this antennae a five-wire lead in drops vertically into the radio hut. The hut is the center of the ground system, consisting of copper bands one-eighth inch thick and eight inches wide, laid on edge in three concentric circles.

The outer circle has a radius of 250 feet, the middle circle a radius of 125 feet and the center circle forms the center point and closely surrounds the radio hut. The concentric circles are joined radially at 19 points, the whole being thoroughly bonded and buried approximately 36 inches in the ground. From the center circle copper tubes are used as leads and brought up through the radio hut making the ground connection for the set.

The set is of standard signal corps type and is known as a 6-tube regenerative set. Plate current at about 1,500 volts is provided by a two-kilowatt direct current generator driven by an alternating current motor, current for which is taken directly from the power lines. Normal radiation of the set is 10 amperes but it has an emergency capacity of double that amount.

Broadcasting from the station will ordinarily be upon a 1,500 meter wave length. The equipment permits of radio-phone broadcasting also. The station is a part of the regular army radio network that covers not only the United States and foreign possessions but all navy ships in harbor or at sea.

TRAFFIC SYSTEM IN DAYTON MAY BE ENTIRELY ALTERED

Xenia motorists should inform themselves of drastic traffic changes proposed for the city of Dayton by City Manager Elchberger before the City Commission, Wednesday night.

The ordinance was placed on its first reading but City Manager Elchberger urges its passage to alleviate extremely congested conditions in the business section. It is said. The proposed ordinance will prohibit diagonal parking in Ludlow, Fifth and Jefferson streets and will require parallel parking on these streets. Right hand turns at Third and Main and Fourth and Main streets will be prohibited and left hand turns at Fifth and Main Streets and Second and Main Streets will also not be allowed.

Turning of corners without a signal from the traffic officers will also be prohibited. Streets on which car tracks run will be designated as main thoroughfares and the privilege of the traffic to the right-of-way on these streets will be upheld.

SNOODLES—Those Cowboys Don't Loan Their Speedsters for Fun

BY CY HUNGERFORD

NAVAL OFFICER IS VISITING IN XENIA

Lieut. Harry E. Rice, Jr., of the United States Battleship, Tennessee, one of the new units of the Pacific Fleet, has arrived here from Seattle, Wash., for a visit with his father, Postmaster H. E. Rice, and other relatives in Ohio.

Until recently Lieut. Commander Paine, an electrical expert, was on the Tennessee. He is a son of Elmer Paine, former Xenian, who has been with the Associated Press for several years.

Lieut. Rice commands a division on the battleship that shoots the fourteen inch guns, which have a range of a little more than 20 land miles. For four consecutive times Lieut. Rice has won first place on the Tennessee in target practice and is now rated as having the best turret in the fleet. He recently represented the ship at a cup presentation.

His record each time was 21 shots in three minutes at a coving target ten miles distant. Twenty-one shots cost $25,000. Fleet practice costs half a million dollars.

The Tennessee cost $32,000,000 and has among other devices, the so-called "fighting brain," an evolution growing out of experiences in the battle of Jutland.

WILLARD AND FIRPO SET FOR IMPORTANT BATTLE THURSDAY

New York, July 12.—That a good big man can beat a good little man is the existing belief in the ranks of pugilism.

But whether a good big man, endowed with skill and priceless experience can beat an equally good big man, with youth and strength in his favor, will be put to a test tonight when Jess Willard, former heavy weight champion, clashes with Luis Firpo, the meteoric South American, in a no-decision bout at Jersey City.

The winner has been promised a title bout with Jack Dempsey. The Broadway gentry have made Firpo an 8 to 5 favorite. It is probable Firpo may even be a longer favorite as there was a preponderance of money bet on him this morning with little Willard currency showing.

Jimmy De Forest, Firpo's trainer, said he has schooled his charge in his only apparent weakness—a left hand. De Forest claimed the South American is hitting as hard with his left as he is with his right.

Willard has rounded into perfect physical perfection, according to his trainer, Jack Skelly.

An interesting angle to the bout will be the battle of wits behind the lines. De Forest will be supreme in Firpo's corner. Skelly will have the say in Willard's corner. Both seconds are grizzled boxing authorities. De Forest has conditioned some of the members of boxing's hall of fame. Skelly was one of the best little men in his day.

Jack McAuliff 11, meets Floyd Johnson, who recently fell before Big Jess in the semi-final.

CINCINNATI COCA COLAS WILL BATTLE BAYLIFFS SUNDAY

By Wones

Another K. I. O. League team will make its appearance here Sunday when the Coca Colas of Cincinnati play the Bayliffs. The soft drink boys will attempt to hand out a lacing to the swiftly moving Bayliffs at Washington Park Sunday afternoon.

The Coca Colas are said to be just as good if not better than the Movers of Cincinnati which team defeated the Bayliffs about three weeks ago by a 12 to 1 count. The Coca Colas are just fresh from a victory over the Armos and word from the "Cokes" camp indicates that they are going to dish out a nasty beating to the locals.

To do this will be a hard task as Manager Bayliff now has about as good a semipro club that comes down the pike. Bayliff has signed Webb Jones, a new twirler. Jones has been pitching baseball for something like ten years and during that time he has picked up all the fine points of the twirler's part on the diamond. Jones pitched a 13 inning game for the Yellow Springs Athletics several weeks ago when that team tackled the crack Harshmanville nine. Although Jones was beaten it was due to the support furnished by his mates.

Webb also does mound duty for the Dayton Scales a team that has

Actual Worth of Your Money

People lose money because they look for too great returns. Usually the higher the promise of returns the greater the risk. That is because money is a commodity, to be bought in the market where safety is certain, at a fair figure which represents its actual net worth.

When more is paid, it is because higher inducements to get investments are necessary—and usually a higher risk. The Columbian Building and Loan Company pays its depositors the actual net worth of their money—now 6%. There is no risk, no inconvenience, no attention required. Simply mail $50 or more to the Columbian, ask for a Certificate of Deposit, and your money begins drawing interest at once.

Over $15,000,000.00 in assets protect you.

FRAZER'S SHOE STORE

URGE PUBLIC TO BUY CHAUTAUQUA SEASON TICKETS

With Chautauqua's opening set for Sunday, the attention of Xenia citizens is called by those backing the project to the fact that they are faced by a guarantee of approximately 700 adult season tickets which must be sold before the opening performance.

The local committee wishes to make it plain that only season tickets are taken into consideration in making up this guarantee and those purchasing single admission tickets are in no way aiding the guarantors in raising the necessary amount which makes Chautauqua an annual event in Xenia.

It is further pointed out that all desiring tickets should make arrangements to purchase them before the opening day of Chautauqua in order that the solicitors will not have to make more than one trip to dispose of their tickets. Season tickets may be secured at the following places: Sayre and Hemphill Co., Mrs. Clara Reutinger, Boring's Book Store, D. D. Jones Drug Store, D. E. Anderson's Insurance office, Edmund Meahl's Restaurant, Lester Barnes Store, J. H. Whitmer and Carl Ervin's Auto Supply Store.

Any profits from the local organization may make over and above the guarantee are to be turned over to the Local Red Cross and Social Service League.

ABANDON PROJECT FOR Y. M. C. A. CAMP

Because officials of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. believed the water of Massies Creek was contaminated, consideration of the James Farm near Xenia, as a possible site for a permanent boys' camp, was abandoned by that institution Wednesday. The waters of the creek run through this farm.

A recent test of the water by Secretaries John L. Dorst, and C. E. Winchell, of the Springfield Y. M. C. A., revealed it is said that the stream was contaminated.

The abandonment of the James farm as a camp site is the last hope of the camp committee of the Springfield organization and no other site will be considered, since it was the only suitable one found during a search of three years.

TWELVE YEAR OLD GIRL IS MISSING

Cincinnati, July 12.—Another name was added to the list of missing women and girls on file at police headquarters last week when Frank Stiffe, of Mt. Healthy Ohio, reported the disappearance of his daughter, Ethel, 12 years old.

Circumstances surrounding the disappearance of the girl are similar to those leading to the disappearance of Freda Hornberger, nine, two years ago. Stiffe told police he sent his daughter to a grocery early yesterday. She did not reach the store.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Styles BY LENORE

None would ever expect to wear the fair feminine from their love of silken underthings, but at last perhaps they will be willing to share it with the irresistibly lovely cotton voile "pretties" that so many of the leading shops are featuring. Pale pink to deep rose, turquoise, faint yellows and vivid orange, and utterly delightful things in snowy white—

this, you see, is the range of shades offered to tempt you.

The sets are made up of little vest chemises and pantaloons. They are trimmed usually with a bit of hand embroidery with hemstitching or ajour work, like the model illustrated in the sketch. In this design ample fullness is provided for in the chemise, and unnecessary bulk dispensed with in the pantaloons. There are also nightdresses made up to complete the sets.

Embroidered batiste as a trimming is one of the new notes in silk things. An attractive example is the charming night dress of orchid crepe de chine with cream batiste bertha neck.

MYSTERY CASE IS FINALLY SOLVED

Cincinnati, O., July 12.—Part of the mystery surrounding the identification of "Margaret Messersmith," central figure in an escapee at the home of Carl Wiedemann, Newport, Ky. horseman, last week, was cleared yesterday when James T. Rucker, Eighth street and State avenue, filed suit in domestic relations court for a divorce from Margaret Rucker, "alias Margaret Messersmith."

According to Rucker's suit, his wife, whom he married February 6, 1923, at Hamilton, Ohio, uses "various aliases in her travels."

The girl, who is 16, is being held at Fort Thomas because of the escape at the Wiedemann home. She was found lying on the porch early Saturday morning and told several different versions of stories for her presence there.

HARPER TELLS HORACE HE HAS SEEN NATALIE

Chapter XLIV

"Well, Crandell, so you've returned to the bosom of your family once more," Craig said, eyeing him sharply.

Horace made an evasive reply. "I saw Mrs. Crandell the other day. Not to talk with her, however. I thought she looked ill."

Horace stared at him. Natalie was in New York. He would find her. Horace started to speak his training making him resent Harper's tone, his expression. Yet his anxiety to find Natalie was so great he would question him. But another member of the Club claimed his attention, and when he looked again, Harper was no where to be seen.

Horace felt a quick thrill of joy. Natalie was in New York if Harper had seen her, he would find out where and when. The rest would be easy.

But as he left the Club his elation died. He recalled the expression on Harper's face, his tone as he spoke to him. His old resentment, the jealousy he had felt the night he quarreled so bitterly with Natalie came back. How did it happen that Craig Harper had seen her, known of her presence in New York—evidently the only person who had seen her? Had Natalie let him know of her whereabouts while hiding it from him, her husband? If so, she could have but one reason—she cared for Harper and so was lost to him.

The thought was agony to the distraught man. He clenched his hands, he muttered:

"I'll not believe it until she tells me so herself." Yet he no longer thought of finding Harper, of questioning him. Natalie was in the city. He would find her if he had to search it street by street, house by house.

Harper had said she looked ill. He must find her and unless she told him she no longer loved him, care for her. He went to the bank, found she had drawn none of the money deposited in her name. How had she lived? Had she been drugging in some office, his lovely Natalie? He had wronged her, had been bitter and cruel. His mother had hurt her cruelly. He thought of her tone when she told him his mother had called her a "misfit." Had compared her to a cabbage that could not be transplanted and grow a rose. No wonder she had fled from them. No woman with any spirit would have remained.

He thought of Etta, but he had gone there several times before he went abroad and had learned nothing of Natalie. Naturally if she were hiding she would not communicate with them, so giving a clue to her whereabouts—and if she had been with Harper—

Try as he would, his mind continually veered back to this. Harper had seen her, knew more of her than his sarcastic question indicated. Harper was rich, fascinating to women because of his gay personality Natalie had turned to him even while with them because of her loneliness. Could he blame her if she had gone to him in her distressing need of help, of companionship?

Days passed, but he found no clue to his missing wife. He avoided the Club, felt he couldn't endure the sight of Harper. But finally he decided he would seek him, demand where Natalie was. She was still his wife. He had the right.

At the Club he found Harper. Said he:

"Harper, where did you see my wife?"

Craig, startled at the question, so abrupt, flushed, then replied:

"I saw her on 80th Street. You know I have property in the vicinity." "Are you sure it was Mrs. Crandell?" "Positive. She was wheeling a young baby."

Horace visibly staggered back, shrank from the meaning look in Harper's face.

"What has happened between you and your wife I don't know," Harper went on after a moment "but I saw her looking shabby, ill, wheeling a very young babe."

"Is that the only time you have seen

her?" Horace bent keen eyes upon him.

"For some time, yes. It seems to me you take mighty poor care of your family, Crandell," Craig sneered, and turned away quickly before Horace could question him further.

"What is it? What's between them?" Horace said between clenched teeth "I'll find her—or I'll drag it out of him."
